Chinese Ultimatum Planned, Rumor

POWERS HAVE 39 WARSHIPS AT HANKOW

Concentration of Vessels Leads to Suspicion That River Will Be Blockaded

VIRTUAL WAR STATE

Claim Leader of Nationalist Moderates to March Against Extremist Wing

(By United Press)
SHANGHAI, April 18.—Unverified reports that the powers were planning to send an ultimatum to the Nationalist government at Hankow persisted today, while firing on merchant vessels and warships on the Yangtze river created a virtual state of war. Thirty-nine warships of the powers now are concentrated at Hankow and two more American vessels have been ordered to sail for there Wednesday. The concentration of ships led to another rumor that the powers planned to blockade the Yangtze. Still another had it that General Chiang Kai-Shek, leader of the Nationalist moderates, planned to march on Hankow, center of the extremist wing of the government, in his campaign to expel radicals from the Kuomintang.

NORTHERN AND SOUTHERN NAVAL FORCES CLASH

LONDON, April 18.—The first real naval engagement between Nationalist and northern ships in China occurred today off Chusan island, an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Hong Kong said. Three northern cruisers exchanged fire with a southern cruiser. Ports of the northern army, manned by troops of Sun Chuan-fang, and the Nationalist flagships joined in the fight. The flagship was badly damaged above the water line, the dispatch said. Northern forces reached Hockow and further looting has occurred at Nanking, it added.

LABORERS PLEDGED TO REFUSE TO FIGHT

The party conference in session here passed a resolution to that effect.

ILLNESS OF REED DELAYS FORD CASE

DETROIT, April 18.—Opening of the sixth week of Aaron Sapiro's million dollar libel suit against Henry Ford was postponed until tomorrow because of a "slight attack of acute indigestion" suffered by Senator Reed, of Missouri, chief cross examiner of the Ford defense. Senator Reed, who has been questioning Sapiro for two weeks, was confined to his hotel room this morning. "Don't send reports across the country that I'm sick," the senator hoarsely told the United Press over the telephone, which he personally answered. "This is nothing serious and over in three or four hours. I'm sure I will be able to get into court tomorrow." Judge Fred M. Raymond ordered the postponement at request of Ford counsel.

M'NARY SAYS FARM RELIEF WOULD RE-ELECT COOLIDGE

(By United Press)
PORTLAND, Ore., April 18.—If President Calvin Coolidge will assist in the enactment of farm relief legislation, he can shatter the third term tradition and be nominated and re-elected in 1928, according to U. S. Senator Charles L. McNary.

Woman Killed By Show Elephants

NEWARK, N. J., April 18.—One woman was killed here today by three elephants, which broke loose as they were being led into a theater and ran through the business section of Newark. Police reserves were called out. The elephants also injured a man in their wild rampage through busy streets and caused hundreds of shoppers to flee in all directions. Trampling wildly, the frightened beasts store here and there in confusion while their trainers, armed with hooks, pursued them.

ORANGE COUNTY GOVERNING ACT BECOMES LAW

Young Signs Bill Proposing More Deputies and Salary Increases

The Orange county government act, which adds a number of deputies to various county office staffs and increases the salaries of other deputies, today was signed by Gov. C. C. Young and became a law. The act was passed by the legislature eight days ago. Under the law requiring that the governor sign or veto measures within 10 days after their passage, the time limit would have expired next Wednesday. Had no action been taken by the governor within the 10 days, the act automatically would have become a law, it is said, the legislature being still in session.

Assemblyman C. D. Ball, of Santa Ana, introduced the county government act in the assembly, where it was passed, later being passed by the senate.

The bill embodied recommendations regarding salary increases and additions of deputies as made by the last county grand jury. It provides two additional deputies for the sheriff's office; a deputy and a stenographer for the county clerk's office; a stenographer and investigator for the district attorney's office, and increased funds for extra help during the "rush" periods as follows: Assessor, $8000; tax collector, $4000; auditor, $1000. As estimated by Auditor W. C. Jerome, the bill involves an increase in the cost of county government administration amounting to about $20,000 per year.

Jerome, who interviewed Governor Young with reference to the act and other bills last week, states that the governor has at hand a chart of every county in the state, showing their costs of government and the expense of their various activities. This chart, it is said, shows that Orange county's cost of government is lower than that of any other county in the state, in proportion to population and assessed valuation of property.

Two other bills of direct concern to Orange county also were signed by Governor Young today, according to dispatches received by The Register from Sacramento.

One of these provides an assistant probation officer at $200 a month and increases the salary of two other assistants from $75 to $100 a month.

The other increases the salary of the Orange county horticultural commissioner from $4200 to $4800, adds a deputy at $3000 and fixes an appropriation for inspectors at $35,280.

Snyder-Gray Jury Selection Is Slow

LONG ISLAND CITY, N. Y., April 13.—Opposition to capital punishment and a reluctance to take the responsibility for sitting in judgment upon a woman when the death penalty may be involved made slow work today of jury selection in the Ruth Snyder-Henry Gray murder trial. When court adjourned at lunch, 22 prospective jurors had been examined, without one being accepted. That was the net result of three hours' work.

the president vetoed, arrived home Sunday. He spent the day visiting with friends here and today was at his farm near Salem. Senator McNary expressed confidence that the problem of farm relief would be settled. "And if so," he said "the nomination and re-election of President Coolidge would be virtually assured."

CALIFORNIA WATER PROBLEM UNSOLVED BY STATE SOLONS

Adoption of Crittenden Proposal Only Step Taken By Legislature

(By United Press)
SACRAMENTO, April 18.—As the 47th session of California's state legislature approaches dissolution, one question, of burning interest to the farmers of the state in general and of the lower San Joaquin and Imperial valleys in particular, was being repeated on all sides. "What is going to be done about water?"

The tax crisis was presented and promptly met. Crime laws have been tightened up to make the state less safe for the hardened criminal. Commissions have been named for purposes varying from investigating schools for the blind to a new state prison for Southern California.

Problem Remains Unsolved

But the water problem remains unsolved. One step, of extreme importance insofar as the $358,000,000 co-ordinated conservation program of State Engineer Paul Bailey is concerned, has been taken by the legislature. That was adoption by the assembly of the Crittenden amendment, proposing to submit to the people a new doctrine of water rights.

The doctrine would sweep away the obstacles placed in the path of the Bailey plan by the Heringhaus decision, which allows riparian water right owners the full flow of streams passing by their lands. The amendment would substitute for this a new doctrine of beneficial use and state ownership of its own streams.

Bitterly contested in the lower house, the proposal will have another fight before it is adopted by the senate. Its adherents, however, insist that it must pass, for it offers the only gleam of hope to the hundreds of farmers whose lands are now parching under the sun.

Proposes State Survey

Another measure, by Assemblyman Bradford S. Crittenden, Van Buren and others, would create a permanent state commission to survey the state's water resources, with a view of including all projects now under consideration in the Bailey program.

Appointment of a tax commission to study the question of California's taxation system during the next two years is one of the important administration measures yet to be adopted. An appropriation of $75,000 is asked for the commission's expenses.

Most of the criminal law revision provisions have passed from the senate to the assembly and will be given consideration in the lower house this week.

The "search and seizure bill," by Assemblyman William Hornblower, of San Francisco, proposing to write into the California liquor law certain provisions of the federal act penalizing search of private homes without warrant, was scheduled for reconsideration and almost certain defeat again today.

2 KILLED, 2 BADLY INJURED IN CRASH

SAN BERNARDINO, April 18.—A girl and a man were fighting for life in a hospital here today as an aftermath to an automobile crash in the mountains 10 miles north of here yesterday that resulted in the death of two others. Suffering from skull fractures and internal injuries, Pearl Udlock, 19, and W. T. Hicks, both of Los Angeles, were in a serious condition in the Ramona hospital. They were injured when the machine in which they were riding plunged from the highway in Waterman canyon, killing Miss Myrtle Baxter, 18, and Mrs. Helen Lampe, 25, nurse in the California Lutheran hospital.

The party was returning from an outing at Arrowhead lake, when Hicks, driving the car, lost control and the machine fell 150 feet over the side of a cliff.

SMITH REVEALS HIS STAND ON CHURCH, STATE

No Conflict Between Religious, Patriotic Loyalty, His Belief

(By United Press)
NEW YORK, April 18.—The position of Gov. Alfred E. Smith, of New York, in the relation of church and state, today was formally before the American public, which may be asked to vote on him as a candidate for president.

In a statement of faith, Smith put himself definitely on record as believing there is no conflict between religious loyalty to the Catholic faith and patriotic loyalty to the United States.

The governor's statement was made in an article written for the Atlantic Monthly, in reply to an open letter from Charles C. Marshall, New York attorney, questioning whether the two could be reconciled. In return, Marshall today gave to the United Press a counter reply in which he affirmed his position with new quotations from Catholic authorities to support it.

Marshall, however, insisted in his reply that Smith had disclaimed only for himself the allegedly conflicting beliefs attributed by Marshall to loyal American adherents of the Roman Catholic church. He said he replied only to Governor Smith's assertion that the so-called conflicting beliefs were not held by any American Roman Catholics.

Wouldn't Refuse Office

In his statement, Smith reiterated that he is not actively seeking the office of president, although he would not refuse it.

Smith said, however, that he "would be a poor American and poor Catholic" if he "injected religious discussion into a political campaign" and he asked Marshall to accept his answer "not as a candidate for any public office, but as an American citizen, meeting a challenge to his patriotism and his intellectual integrity."

"You imply that there is conflict between religious loyalty to the Catholic faith and the patriotic loyalty to the United States," the governor wrote. "Everything that actually has happened during my long public career leads me to know that no such thing as that is true. I have taken an oath of office in this state 19 times. Each time I swore to defend and maintain the constitution of the United States. I never have known any conflict between my official duty and my religious beliefs. During the years I have discharged these trusts (of public office) I have been a communicant of the Roman Catholic church."

Marshall, in his counter reply, said: "You make a disclaimer for yourself of the convictions imputed by me to Roman Catholics in my open letter. Had you stopped with that disclaimer, this reply would have been superfluous, but you say that those convictions are not held by any American Roman Catholic so far as you know. The conviction I imputed I supported by citations from the encyclical letters of Pope Leo XIII. You repudiate my citations as inexact and as detached from a necessary context."

"This is a matter of opinion and I cannot yield to your claims in the matter. The encyclical letters are accessible and if nothing else had been accomplished by our controversy than to secure their careful reading by the American public, that is enough."

Then, saying he would not allow to pass unchallenged Smith's assertion that the imputed convictions are not held by any American Catholics, Marshall quoted at length from the manual of Christianity.

Ignited Toy Balloon Sets Fire to Machine; Racing Driver Dies on Speedway

(By United Press)
SAN FRANCISCO, April 18.—Grim tragedy, un mindful of the anniversary of the Resurrection of Christ, took an Easter tide toll of 19 lives up and down the Pacific coast, a United Press compilation showed today.

Nature's lure, verdant fields choked with spring flowers in blossom, the quietude of silent forests as a fitting scene to observe the holy day, took thousands of motorists out into the open spaces and a fearful loss of life from the automobile resulted.

The day of the Resurrection seemed to signify new hope to the despondent and soul weary. Only one suicide was reported in the coast cities.

Six Are Burned

A Los Angeles woman, enroute to Easter sunrise services, was struck down and killed by a hit-run driver; six persons in San Francisco were burned when a toy balloon ignited when one of the occupants of a machine lit a cigarette, the balloon gas setting the automobile afire; a racing driver met death in a speedway crash.

San Francisco—E. A. Garin, architect and builder, found dead in his room with fractured skull, believed victim of thugs.

CHICAGO, April 18.—Air mail flight records between Chicago and Los Angeles were shattered today, when 1165 pounds of mail, which left Los Angeles at 7:30 a. m., Sunday, landed here 21 hours, 50 minutes after its departure.

The plane landed here at 5:20 a. m., today, and the mail was in the post office and ready for distribution at 7 o'clock.

The previous record was 23 hours flying time.

The trans-continental and Western Express air lines co-operated in carrying the mail.

(By United Press)
LOS ANGELES, April 18.—Paul E. Knapp, 29, former Seattle policeman, was held today in the hospital ward of the county jail, following a gun battle with police in a roundup of "branch bank" bandit suspects.

Flood-Bound Town Shaken By 3 Quakes

(By United Press)
RIDGLEY, Tenn., April 18.—A series of earthquakes, shocks shook this flood-bound town early today.

In the very heart of the Reel Foot lake territory, which was formed by an earthquake years ago, Ridgley appeared none the worse after three severe tremors.

The first quake occurred at 4:30 a. m. After inhabitants, hundreds of them fled to the sleeping in tents, had gone back to their interrupted sleep, two more quakes followed in rapid succession at 6:30 a. m.

Sheriff Damon Headen, of Lake county, said no damage from the quakes had been reported.

BELIEVE OPEN WAR IN WATER FIGHT AVERTED

Chamber of Commerce Head Remains Barri-caded in His Home

(By United Press)
BISHOP, Calif., April 18.—While the embers of a bitter feud over water rights smoldered in this mountain town today, peace officers expressed the belief that open warfare which threatened for a time, had been averted.

George Warren, rancher and president of the Associated Chambers of Commerce of Owens valley, still was barricaded in his home here today against an anticipated attack following a warning to leave the valley.

Meanwhile six ranchers, named in warrants sworn out by Warren, were released following a preliminary hearing here today and ordered to appear for a hearing in Independence Friday.

According to Deputy Sheriff MacDonald, no further trouble is anticipated for the time being.

Warren said the trouble over the water question broke out anew last Tuesday, when he received an order from six men to leave the valley because of his asserted opposition to a movement to collect damages from the city of Los Angeles in connection with the operation of an aqueduct.

The rancher barricaded his home and, with neighbors, kept an all-night vigil with shotguns, following his refusal to participate in an open meeting on Shelley hill, two miles south of here, at which the water question was to have been discussed.

The men named by Warren in the warrants include E. W. Adams, E. T. Albright, P. W. Smith, D. E. Lutz, A. C. Brown and Frank Butler.

Name M. B. Harris To Highway Body

SACRAMENTO, April 18.—M. B. Harris, of Fresno, a former member of the state senate, today was named state highway commissioner by Gov. C. C. Young. The other two members of the commission, appointed by the governor soon after his taking office, are Ralph W. Bull, of Eureka, and J. P. Baumgartner, of Santa Ana.

Harris accepted the appointment following a conference with Governor Young at his offices today. The new commissioner declared himself in complete harmony with the administrative policies of the governor, and said he would work to put them into effect. "Though I am busy with the work of my profession in Fresno," said Harris, "I want to do what I can to make the administration of Governor Young a success."

HIGH WATERS THREATENING MORE HAVOC

Floods Will Be Poured Into Main Stream by Tributaries Until Wednesday

CITIES ARE INUNDATED

Scattered Areas Between St. Louis, New Orleans Still Face Destruction

BULLETIN
Fertile fields bordering on the Mississippi river today are inundated; 22,000 persons are refugees; rail traffic in many places is paralyzed; hundreds of militiamen and volunteers are doing levee duty as the broad river—swollen to flood stage—sweeps toward the delta country.

Thus far the death toll stands at nine, but many persons are reported missing, especially in Arkansas, where families were separated by hasty departures from flood-threatened homes.

No estimate of the damage had been made today, although officials say it will be in the millions.

(By United Press)

ST. LOUIS, Mo., April 18.—Despite a Sunday of fair weather, the Mississippi river continued on the rise here today and threatened further havoc at widely scattered points south to New Orleans.

The Missouri, Ohio and other tributaries will pour their floods into the main stream for several days even if no serious rains add to the seriousness of the situation as the weather bureau predicts.

The Missouri will continue its rise until Wednesday, according to the weather bureau. The Illinois, Osage and Meramec rivers also are scheduled for gains.

The walls which hold back the Mississippi have crumbled under the flood pressure in several places, inundating thousands of acres of land in many towns. Upon the amount of water flowing through these breaks will depend the seriousness of the situation at other points.

Collapse of the river wall at East Prairie, Mississippi county, Missouri, flooded the town with four feet of water yesterday. Three hundred families were driven from their homes.

DANGER TO LIVES AND PROPERTY CONTINUES

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., April 18.—Flood waters, which have ravaged the Mississippi valley, abated slightly today, but danger to lives and property continued.

Arkansas has experienced one of the most serious floods in the history of the state. Levees holding the raging Mississippi and its tributaries in check have broken in several places in Illinois, Arkansas and Missouri, causing extreme suffering and heavy property loss.

Troops, airplanes and Red Cross workers were active throughout the flood area today in attempts at relief. Judsonia and McClelland, Ark., are reported completely marooned and residents who did not escape ahead of the flood must be reached and aided.

Plans for sending food supplies to the areas cut off by the flood were under way. Danger to White river levees, which are already reported broken in four places, caused state officials to order a National Guard company for service at Cotton Plant, Ark.

BEGIN TEARING UP OLD PAVING ON SOUTH MAIN

A big iron ball, weighing 1200 pounds and dropping approximately 15 feet, today was denting holes in the pavement of South Main street as the first operation in the repaving of that thoroughfare from First to Edinger streets.

As anticipated, the Griffith company began work this morning, which means that until the middle of July or the first of August South Main street will be closed to traffic. Portions of the street may be in use a few days longer, or for such time as it takes the machine to travel from the south end of the section to be paved to First street, the north end.

It is expected that steam shovels will start tomorrow on the work of lifting the broken pieces of pavement into dump trucks to be carried to points where fills will be made. The greater part of the old pavement will be deposited along the Santiago creek bank in the vicinity of the chamber of commerce auto park.

According to Clyde Jenkins, city engineer, it will take the contracting company 30 days to remove the old material. The work of grading, however, will begin at once, and it is possible that the pouring of concrete on the south end will be under way by the time removal of the old pavement is completed.

During the period of the construction work, traffic to points in the south part of the city will be routed over Cypress and Orange avenues to streets below the section to be improved. The Greenville-Fairview-Mesa highway is another route by which traffic may reach Costa Mesa and Newport Beach. Travelers to the beach probably will find this the most convenient route, it was believed.

The contracting company and city officials are looking forward to the completion of the work. Every possible situation has been anticipated, and every plan has been made to rush the paving. The contractor will utilize two eight-hour shifts, this being one of the methods adopted for finishing the job in a hurry.

The Southern Counties Gas company is well advanced with its work of installing a new pipe line and placing stubs for vacant lots which will obviate the necessity of cutting the new pavement when gas connections are needed.

MYSTERIOUS BLAZE PROBES BY FIREMEN

Fire department authorities are today investigating the mysterious origin of fires started in a vacant house near Washington avenue and Logan streets, last night and Saturday night.

Prompt service by the department on both nights saved the house, and little damage was done either night.

The Saturday night call came in at 10:37 p. m., and the call last night at 9:33 p. m. Firemen found two places where the house had been set afire, last night, it was said.

In the opinion of police, who also are investigating, the house probably was fired by small boys who "wanted to see the department make a run."

With data in his hands pointing to incendiaryism, Chief John Luxemburger, of the fire department, said today that he was working on the theory that the old warehouse, located at Washington avenue and the Southern Pacific tracks, also was burned by boys. Tramps were credited with firing the place at the time. The warehouse burned down on the night of April 8.

SMITH REVEALS HIS STAND ON CHURCH, STATE

tian doctrine, which he cited as published by John Joseph McVey for use in Catholic schools. He quoted the book as saying that "The Pope has the right to annul those laws or acts of government that would injure the salvation of souls or attack the natural rights of citizens." that "the state should aid, protect and defend the (Roman Catholic) church;" that the principal obligation of the heads of states "is to practice the (Roman) Catholic religion themselves and, as they are in power, to protect and defend it" and that "the state has the right and duty" to "proscribe schism or heresy."

He alleged that 20,000,000 Catholic students were being taught these principles, which were, he said, objectionable teachings from the political standpoint. Similar quotations in Marshall's original letter were dismissed by the governor as dealing with the United States.

Claims There is Conflict

Marshall declared his contention was that there was conflict between the doctrine and policy of the church and the American government, not between the faith of religion of the church and the government. Smith took the latter view in his reply, Marshall said.

He denied the governor's assertion that Marshall had imputed disloyalty to Catholics and emphasized that his complaint was against the policy or governmental system of the Catholic church and not against the faith and religion itself.

Marshall also said that "no view I have expressed has been intended to suggest the placing of a ban against candidacy for office because of religion."

Smith, in his reply to Marshall's first letter, credited data on church law used in the reply to Father Francis P. Duffy, "whose patriotism neither you nor any other man will question."

The governor cited Duffy's brilliant war record, including award to him of the distinguished service medal, Legion of Honor ribbon and cross de guerre with palm.

The governor said he regarded the public school system as one of the foremost functions of government and said the largest single item of increase appropriation under his administration was for the support of common schools.

Then he pointed to his large acquaintanceship with Catholic ecclesiastics and said he never had received from any of them anything but "co-operation and encouragement in the full and complete discharge of my duty to the state."

"I am unable to understand how anything that I was taught to believe as a Catholic could possibly be in conflict with what is good citizenship," the governor continued.

Stanford Trustees Take Up New Plan

The plan was submitted to the trustees yesterday by President Wilbur, who looks upon the proposal as the logical consequence of present tendencies in education.

POLICE OFFICER IS THROWN INTO BAY

Fifty high school and college boys from Riverside, Pasadena and Long Beach, who spent a week on Balboa Island, today are congratulating themselves that they did not have to return home sans clothing.

After renting a house from Herman Hilmer for the week the boys found themselves almost penniless Saturday night and not enough funds to pay their rent.

Hilmer, not to be deprived of a week's rent gathered up the boys' clothing when they went swimming and held them as security. This was done, he said on the advice of a police officer.

Not desirous of returning home naked the boys broke into Hilmer's home, retrieved their clothes and then to satisfy a grudge against the officer threw him into the bay.

While the officer was dragging himself from the cold waters of the bay the youths cranked their machines and beat a hasty retreat.

The boys are home today, the officer was in bed at noon still trying to get warm and Hilmer holds a typewriter and a watch belonging to one of the youths.

Hilmer doesn't expect to ever receive the rent money and therefore has a typewriter and a watch for sale.

SAY YOUNG TO SIGN BILL ON FLOOD CONTROL

The Orange county flood control bill probably will be before Governor C. C. Young for signature this week, according to L. A. West, Santa Ana attorney, and W. C. Jerome, county auditor, who were in Sacramento last week while the bill was being passed.

West and Jerome, as well as others familiar with the legislation, believe that it will be a law before the end of the week. They expect the governor to affix his signature to the measure that is so important to Orange county.

Jerome, who interviewed Governor Young while at the capital, expressed the opinion that not only the flood control bill but the county government act would be signed by the chief executive.

The flood control bill, which would organize the entire county into a flood control district, was passed by the senate last Wednesday and went back to the assembly, which had previously passed it, for concurrence with senate amendments. This was given Thursday. The bill was scheduled to go to the engrossing department today or tomorrow, after which it would be ready for the governor's signature, it was said.

The governor has 10 days in which to sign or veto the measure. If that time expires while the legislature is still in session, without the governor having acted upon it, the bill automatically becomes a law. If the governor does not sign or veto measures that come to him after the legislature has adjourned, the result is the reverse of what happens when the legislature is still in session, it is said.

In case the legislature has adjourned, the governor's failure to act upon a measure automatically kills it by what is known as the pocket veto.

Our Neighbors

EL CENTRO—Six new settling basins to give this city a daily domestic water supply of approximately 10,000,000 gallons have just been completed by Contractor Charles E. Pitzer.

This city's water supply comes entirely from the Colorado river, 60 miles distant, and the water carries so large a content of silt that it is necessary to store it for several days to permit this silt to settle before it can be filtered and chlorinated for domestic use.

With the completion of the new basins the city has a settling area amounting to five acres.

FONTANA—What is believed to be a record growth for a community bank in California has been experienced by the First National bank since its opening last August, it is revealed in a report just made to the institution's board of directors by President H. S. Barbee.

Resources on March 23 were $609,100.82, and on April 8 had jumped to $711,582.82.

SAN DIEGO—Initiative petitions are being circulated throughout the city asking the incoming city council to adopt an ordinance providing for consolidation of the city and county tax departments, including both assessing and collection.

In the event the council does not see fit to adopt such an ordinance, the petition requires that it be submitted to a vote of the people at a special election.

ACCIDENTS IN ORANGE COUNTY SCARE EASTER

Easter Sunday in Orange county passed without the usual Sunday list of automobile accident victims, according to a check of hospitals and at police stations. Only two accidents were reported, neither of which was regarded as serious.

Mrs. Mary Manteree and a small child riding in the machine with her, were slightly injured at 1:15 p. m. yesterday at the intersection of Raymond and East Orange-thorpe avenues, when their car was struck by a machine said to have been driven by Jose Hernandez, Corona. They were taken to the hospital by J. C. Espinoza, according to a report filed by C. J. Cain, state traffic officer, at the sheriff's office.

Mrs. Dorothy Betts, 22, Santos apartments, Los Angeles, sustained cuts and bruises in an accident near San Clemente yesterday, according to a report filed at the sheriff's office.

The car in which she was riding was struck by a machine, said to have been driven by Dorothy F. Forgarty, 11155 Budlong avenue, Los Angeles. Miss Forgarty reported that she did not see the other car until she struck it. Mrs. Betts was taken to the Santa Ana Valley hospital, where she was reported as improved today. She will be taken to her home today, it was said.

Conflicting rumors, some intimating that parties responsible for petitions seeking the removal of J. A. Cranston, city superintendent of schools, and D. K. Hammond, principal of the junior college and the high school, are determined to obtain official hearing of their complaint, and others to the effect that there seems to be a tendency to drop the issue and withdraw the petitions, were rife this morning in the city.

Inquiries at the board of education offices elicited the information that so far no petitions had been filed with the board nor had any advice been received to that effect from interested parties. The belief was expressed, however, that, if there is a desire to file the petitions in question, they would in all probability be filed following the organization of the new board, or with some member of the newly elected administration.

No official confirmation could be obtained of the conflicting rumors regarding the disposal of the petitions, nor was information available obtainable as to the identity of the originators and backers of the anti-Cranston and Hammond petitions.

File Two Suits As Crash Result

Two damage actions, resulting from an automobile collision have just been filed in superior court by Albert Heim, and his wife, Anna Heim, of Olive, against J. L. Underwood.

The wreck occurred in Santa Ana canyon at Sulphur Slide last January 29. Heim sued Underwood for $6770 for injuries he received, for damage to his car, loss of his time and loss of his wife's society through her injury. In a separate action Mrs. Heim demands $2500 damages for her alleged injuries.

Attorneys Scarborough, Forgy and Reinhaus, of Santa Ana, represent the plaintiffs.

NO PETITIONS BEFORE NEWLY ELECTED BOARD

Conflicting rumors, some intimating that parties responsible for petitions seeking the removal of J. A. Cranston, city superintendent of schools, and D. K. Hammond, principal of the junior college and the high school, are determined to obtain official hearing of their complaint, and others to the effect that there seems to be a tendency to drop the issue and withdraw the petitions, were rife this morning in the city.

AUTO PAYMENTS SUIT IS STARTED

Trial of a suit brought by the Whittier Garage company against Earl J. Lynch and J. E. Bohannan, of Anaheim, for $495.54 as the alleged balance due on an automobile sales contract, promised today to bring charges of fraud at the hearing in Judge E. J. Marks' court.

In their answer to the suit, Bohannan and Lynch declared that I. E. Leonard, agent for the garage company, deceived them in the wording of the contract they signed. They signed it in the dark, unable to read what they were signing, they said. Leonard induced them, they said, to sign the contract without going into a house where they could turn on the lights.

Later, Bohannan found he had guaranteed all Lynch's payments on the contract, when he had meant to guarantee the payments only while the car involved was taken out of the state, he said.

A further defense to the suit was made, the defendants contending that interest charged on the contract was about 33 1-3 per cent, which the alleged was usurious and contrary to state law. Therefore, they contend, the contract was void.

Richard P. Woods, Whittier attorney, represents the garage company. Leo J. Fries of Anaheim is counsel for the defense.

Would Devote Art Collection To Negro Works

PHILADELPHIA, April 18.—A threat to devote a building housing a $7,000,000 art collection and the 12-acre park surrounding it to a national center for the development of "the rare artistic and mental endowments of the negro" has stirred authorities of Merion township, an exclusive Philadelphia suburb.

The threat came from Dr. Albert C. Barnes when plans were disclosed for construction of a row of dwelling houses adjacent to the Barnes Foundation, known in intellectual centers of the world for its collection of art, its distinctive courses in aesthetics and for publications on art and sociology. His threat will be carried out, he insists, if the authorities permit the new construction.

Dr. Barnes, who created the Foundation in 1923, with an endowment of $6,000,000, announced that he would give his art collection to the Metropolitan Museum in New York and establish his courses there, because the projected intrusion of residences "shows lack of appreciation in Philadelphia and Merion and spoils the ideal he had spent 20 years in realizing."

He said the building plan would bring city slums next door.

His proposed negro educational center, he said, would be under the guidance of the National Urban league, the leaders of which are from both white and black races. The league, he asserted, had been successful in other cities in defeating any attempt, legal or illegal, to prevent negroes from residing where white men object. Negroes, he said, would live near the Foundation and study there, and this was "no idle threat."

Begin Trial Of Finance Action

Superior Judge Homer G. Ames was hearing the damage suit brought by the Old Colony Finance company against Salvador Argenye, an outgrowth of an automobile collision in Santa Ana canyon on October 17, 1925.

The finance company sued Argenye for $381.65 damages. Lucas F. Smith, Los Angeles attorney, appears for the plaintiff, with Albert D. Trujillo, of San Bernardino, acting as counsel for the defendant.

SCOUTMASTERS OF COUNTY TO MEET TUESDAY

Roland E. Dye, scout executive of Orange county, announced today that the monthly meeting of the scoutmasters of the county will be held at the Scout Cabin, Huntington Beach, tomorrow, Tuesday evening starting with dinner at 6:30. According to Dye, it is expected that at least 30 scoutmasters and assistant scoutmasters will be in attendance at the meeting.

Scoutmaster E. C. McGown, in charge of Troop 28, Santa Ana, will tell of his recent trip to England and his experience at the Imperial Headquarters in London. McGown, representing the United States, was in London at the time of the annual celebration of the Boy Scouts and carried back with him some interesting impression of the Imperial Headquarters in this connection.

Install Lights At S. F. Airport

SAN FRANCISCO, April 18.—To make San Francisco's new airport safe for planes landing at night, more than 70,000 candlepower of light will flood the landing field.

This tremendous flood of light will be visible for more than 50 miles through a 7,500,000 candlepower revolving beacon marking the field.

Two 30,000-candlepower arc lighting lights, each complete with a motor generator set, will augment the beacon light. They can be moved to all parts of the field and cast an intense ground illumination through an arc of 170 degrees.

Belief In Signs Leads In Prison

BAKERSFIELD, April 18.—C. E. Dodson declares he believed in signs until he was sentenced to jail for 30 days for stealing one.

Immediately after his conviction and sentence, Dodson repudiated all belief in signs.

Dodson was accused of the theft of a large tin sign and using it to reinforce the roof of his house. He claimed someone else took the sign and put it on his roof, but the jury decided otherwise.

Our Neighbors

EL CENTRO—Six new settling basins to give this city a daily domestic water supply of approximately 10,000,000 gallons have just been completed by Contractor Charles E. Pitzer.

This city's water supply comes entirely from the Colorado river, 60 miles distant, and the water carries so large a content of silt that it is necessary to store it for several days to permit this silt to settle before it can be filtered and chlorinated for domestic use.

With the completion of the new basins the city has a settling area amounting to five acres.

FONTANA—What is believed to be a record growth for a community bank in California has been experienced by the First National bank since its opening last August, it is revealed in a report just made to the institution's board of directors by President H. S. Barbee.

Deposits have increased from $224,472.28 on August 21, 1926, to $345,845.34 on April 8 of this year. On the last day of 1926, deposits were $456,119.73 and on March 23 they had mounted to $545,257.35.

Resources on March 23 were $609,100.82, and on April 8 had jumped to $711,582.82.

SAN DIEGO—Initiative petitions are being circulated throughout the city asking the incoming city council to adopt an ordinance providing for consolidation of the city and county tax departments, including both assessing and collection.

In the event the council does not see fit to adopt such an ordinance, the petition requires that it be submitted to a vote of the people at a special election.

EL CENTRO—Practically 10,000 acres of cantaloupes are growing in the vicinity of El Centro, according to a tabulated table of acreage released today by the Southern Pacific railroad.

EL CENTRO—The report is that 7,942 acres, which is augmented by the adjacent acreage in the Sandby, Imperial and Heber districts. Beber has a total of 4420 acres, Sandia, 1285, and Imperial, 635. Other acreage in the south end of the valley includes 1854 acres planted to move on the Holton Inter-urban railway, 2396 on the San Diego and Arizona, and 1720 at Calexico.

File Two Suits As Crash Result

Two damage actions, resulting from an automobile collision have just been filed in superior court by Albert Heim, and his wife, Anna Heim, of Olive, against J. L. Underwood.

The wreck occurred in Santa Ana canyon at Sulphur Slide last January 29. Heim sued Underwood for $6770 for injuries he received, for damage to his car, loss of his time and loss of his wife's society through her injury. In a separate action Mrs. Heim demands $2500 damages for her alleged injuries.

Attorneys Scarborough, Forgy and Reinhaus, of Santa Ana, represent the plaintiffs.

NO PETITIONS BEFORE NEWLY ELECTED BOARD

Conflicting rumors, some intimating that parties responsible for petitions seeking the removal of J. A. Cranston, city superintendent of schools, and D. K. Hammond, principal of the junior college and the high school, are determined to obtain official hearing of their complaint, and others to the effect that there seems to be a tendency to drop the issue and withdraw the petitions, were rife this morning in the city.

Inquiries at the board of education offices elicited the information

MUSSOLINI HAS DIPLOMATS ON ANXIOUS SEAT

LONDON, April 18.—It is Mus-solini's strong suit in European politics to keep chancellors guessing, and the Duce has never lived up to his reputation more successfully than with the bombshell that he hurled through the windows of

Downing street. Quai D'Orsay and Wilhelmstrasse in the shape of a note charging Yugoslavia with hatching a plot to overthrow the government of Ahmed Zogu in Albania and warning that Italy would intervene if necessary. The detonation has so far done no damage except to Europe's nerves, but it has left dazed diplomats in London, Paris and Berlin trying to puzzle out what exactly it was that hit them.

Object Appears Obscure

What is Mussolini's object in this particular exhibition of sabrerattling? This question is not easily answered. The circumstances surrounding the Fascist chief's gesture tend to make the problem less, rather than more, soluble.

Relations between Italy and Jugoslavia have been strained ever since the treaty of Tirana between Italy and Albania in November.

This treaty gave Italy the right to intervene in any attempt, either from without or within made to oust the present Albanian government. It is regarded by Jugoslavia as making that small, but tragically important, Balkan republic a virtual Italian Point D'appui directly threatening Jugoslavia. There is no indication, however, that the latter country has planned to tear up the treaty by forcible means.

The population of Jugoslavia is only twelve and a half millions as against Italy's 40 millions, and the army is at present in the course of a re-equipment which will not be complete until next year.

Suddenly from a clear sky Mussolini announced that Jugoslavia's military preparations on the Albannian frontier were causing Italy grave anxiety and warned that

Italy would resist any move from across the frontier aimed at overthrowing the Ahmed Zogu government. Coincidentally, officially inspired Roman newspapers crossed the seas and dotted the eyes of the Duce's charges against Italy's neighbor.

Promptly Denies Truth

The Jugoslavian foreign minister, Perich, promptly denied the truth of these charges and followed with an offer to give foreign military attaches facilities for probing the frontier situation. With the probable acceptance of this offer the "incident" that gave Europe an anxious week end will be temporarily closed, but the question of what is back of it remains.

If—as the majority of commentators here assumed—Mussolini desired a pretext for Italians landing in Albania, why did he act in a blaze of publicity? In the case of the Italian occupation of Corfu,

the fleet moved before the ultimatum to Greece was dispatched and other powers were ignored.

The most plausible theory put forth is that the note to the powers was in the nature of a dress

NEST EGG FOR WILHELM

Here is a new picture of Mr. and Mrs. Wilhelm Hohenzollern, of Doorn, Holland, with Mrs. Hohenzollern's youngest daughter, Henriette and the Hohenzollern dog. The former kaiser is now one of the richest men in Europe, through a settlement with Prussia that went into effect the other day, granting Wilhelm $50,000,000 worth of royal properties and several million marks.

Moncrief Home Offers Setting for Lovely Easter Wedding

okee roses offered the decorative motif for a beautiful home wedding on Saturday night when Miss

Bertha Wedell of Garden Grove, became the wife of Robert N. Galloway of Montebello, at the home of the bridegroom's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Orio Moncrief on El Portal street.

Mrs. Moncrief made her home very lovely with the soft radiance of many tall white tapers, and

Cherokee roses everywhere. The fireplace where the ceremony took place, was banked with bridal wreath, and the bride wore a gown of soft green crepe, which harmonized with the green and white appointments, and carried pink and white sweet peas. The Rev. F. T.

Porter, pastor of the First Christian church, read the marriage service just at 8 o'clock.

Following congratulations and good wishes, Mr. and Mrs. Moncrief led the way to the dining-room, where the bride's table was arranged beneath a large white wedding bell from which green and white garlands led to the four corners of the table. White Cherokee roses filled a low bowl in the center, flanked by tall green can-dledsticks with white candles. Seated with Mr. Galloway and his bride were the latter's parents, Mr.

and Mrs. J. P. Wedell, the Rev.

Mr. Porter and Miss Anne Wedell.

Other guests were seated at smaller tables surrounding them, and maintaining the same decoorative effect. The bride cut the first slice of the beautifully decorated wedding cake which was then served with pistachio-nut ice cream in wedding bell form, and coffee.

After a two-weeks' honeymoon trip, Mr. Galloway and his bride will make their home in Montebello where the former is with the Standard Oil company. He is the son of Robert Galloway sr. of Montebello. Mrs. Galloway came to Garden Grove with her parents just a few months ago from their former home in Woodlake.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Galloway of Fullerton; Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Galloway of Montebello, the Rev. Mr. Porter; Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Wedell, Miss Anne Wedell, Wilbur Wedell, Garden Grove; Mr. and Mrs. Noble Beal, Long Beach and Mr. and Mrs. William Collier.

Birthday Dinner On Easter Day

Mrs. W. O. Packard, of 510 South Broadway, planned a pleasant surprise yesterday to celebrate the double event of Easter day and the birthday of Mr. Packard, and prepared a delectable birthday dinner with all the children home to enjoy it.

Easter lilies and pink roses were the decorations of the home, and centered the table where a delectable chicken dinner was served. At the dessert course, a great birthday cake was produced as additional surprise to the host.

Mr. Packard was offered loving wishes and attractive gifts by his children, who were O. Bernard Packard of San Francisco, Mr. and Mrs. J. Roland Sandstrum, Lucille Packard of Long Beach and Mr. and Mrs. Vernon J. Williams of West Bishop street, this city.

Double Birthdays and Easter Celebrated

A beautifully-appointed Easter dinner was given yesterday by Mr. and Mrs. William Castler at their spacious home, 720 Spurgeon street, the event also honoring the natal days of their daughter, Mrs. Robert Wallace and their friend, Mrs. William H. Mize.

Magnificent roses and Easter lilies were utilized for the house and table decorations, nut baskets and place cards carrying out the joyous scheme.

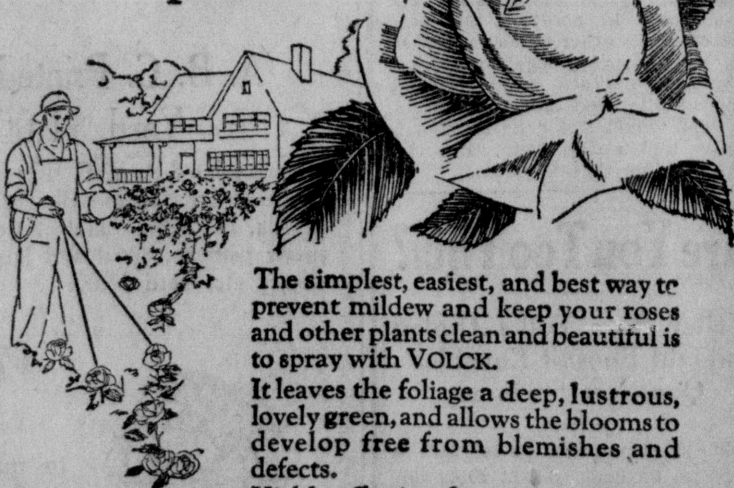

The honor guests found a number of intriguing-looking parcels at their places, which, when unwrapped, disclosed beautiful birthday gifts. Each was called upon to cut a birthday cake, which twinkled with the proper quota of lighted tapers.

In the afternoon the party motored to Laguna Beach to enjoy the perfect day, which was closed with supper at the Castler home and an evening of social chat.

At table, covers were placed for the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Castler, the former's father, A. J. Castler, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wallace, Mr. and Mrs. William H. Mize and Mr. and Mrs. W. A. West.

BANDIT SLAYER DIES

COFFEYVILLE, Kas., April 18.—John Joseph Kloeber, who became famous in 1892 when he shot and killed three members of the notorious Dalton gang of bank robbers, has died of old age. When the Dalton gang raided the two banks of the city Kloeber established himself behind a fence and sniped away at the bandits until he had killed three and the rest had fled.

LOST FAITH IN EYES

SILVERTON, Colo., April 18.—When two members of the Colorado National Guard flew over the continental divide to this snowbound town recently, they gave it the first glimpse of an airplane it ever had. Mrs. Mary Cura, 75, had never seen a plane and she didn't believe men could fly. When she was coaxed out of the house to see the ships, she took one look and turned back, saying, "They just ain't."

SIR BOUNTIFUL

ALBANY, N. Y., April 18.—When his car failed him on an isolated road in the northern part of New York state, a motorist found he was out of gas, cursed his luck, hailed an approaching truck. The driver of the larger vehicle slowed down just enough to hand him an envelope, then sped on. The envelope contained $200. Police sought a liquor runner.

Spring Market Plans Being Perfected Rapidly

Only three more days until the opening date of the long-anticipated Ebbl Spring Market and Flower show, and as Thursday, April 21, draws nearer interest in the event quickens not only among Ebbl members but among the non-members who see in it one of the most colorful and lovely features of the year in Santa Ana, and the opportunity not only to see in the mass, the Southland's most gorgeous flowers, but also to obtain roots, bulbs and cuttings of them for future blooms of their own. The Market is being sponsored by the finance committee of the society, with Mrs. E. M. Nealey as chairman, assisted by Mesdames N. A. Beale, A. G. Flagg, F. E. Coulter and Leonard G. Swales. The Flower Show will be directed by the garden section of which Mrs. Cood Adams is leader, and under these two committees, the plans are growing and developing until Thursday and Friday promise to surpass in interest, all previous Ebbl affairs.

Varied Features

Among the various features will be the display of arts and crafts including all varieties of fancy work, which the arts and crafts section with Miss Effie Douglas, leader, will have in the lounge. The household booth, with all manner of household linens and appliances, will be in charge of the fifth household economics section of which Mrs. Hugh Shields is leader. Mrs. Charles F. Mitchell and her fourth household economics section members, have been making a personal appeal to each Ebbl member for an article for the "personal booth" and of the other household economics sections, the sixth, of which Mrs. Roscoe Wilson is leader, will have charge of aprons and intimate wearing apparel; while Mrs. Charles Searls and her third section members will conduct a country store and post office in the small room adjoining the lounge. Various novelties will be offered for sale under the direction of Mrs. Fred Preble, Mrs. E. T. Battey and others.

Intriguing Book Exchange

Mrs. A. G. Flagg, leader and members of the second section, will conduct the cooked food sale, always a popular feature of the annual events, while Miss Minnie Childs, who is usually to be found in that department, will instead preside over the book exchange which the book review section will maintain in the lobby and where anyone may bring a book and a quarter and obtain some volume "nearer to their heart's desire."

Mrs. Charles Chamberlain, leader of the current events section, with the aid of Mrs. J. S. Warner and Mrs. Charles V. Doty, will preside at the candy booth where home-made sweets will be dispensed.

On Thursday, Mrs. B. H. Sharpless leader of the music section, and her members will serve luncheon and tea and will yield place on Friday to the modern poetry section whose teacher members will serve afternoon tea.

The big peacock room will blossom with flowers as will the section rooms where the special entries in roses will be displayed. Special emphasis is laid on the fact that everyone is asked to enter their flowers in the exhibit, and entries of non-members will receive the same consideration and have the same chance for prizes as will those of members. Mrs. J. C. Lamb and Mrs. F. E. Farnsworth will receive all donated plants and shrubs; Mrs. J. E. Paul will have charge of flowers entered in competition, and Mrs. J. M. Cloyes will have charge of the general cut-flower exhibit.

Prize Awards

The list of prizes and ribbons offered may be obtained from the Santa Ana Bookstore and the Bouquet Shop. Judges in the contest will be George Perkins, famous rose grower and florist of the east who is wintering in Santa Ana; T. M. Robertson, Fullerton nurseryman, and Russell Adkinson, nurseryman of this city.

In connection with the flower show, the garden section will offer an afternoon lecture Thursday by Miss K. O. Eastons, of San Diego, prominent in that city for her landscape gardening and her nurseries. She was especially active in planning the landscape effects of Balboa park in the southern city, and has studied gardens in Hawaii and in Europe. Her talk promises to be one of the most interesting features of the two-day event.

In addition will be two evening entertainments, that of Thursday to feature smart modern styles in a fashion show to be presented by the Rankin store, and that of Friday to offer a dance revue by the pupils of the McAdam School of Dancing, which has branch classes at Ebbl clubhouse every Tuesday.

For keeping eight pet cats in her bedroom, an elderly spinster in London was fined $5 and costs.

The Sumner Shop

will open for business tomorrow at 308 North Broadway. It will be some time before we are ready for the formal opening, but after tomorrow business will go on as usual. Drop in and see us. Between Third and Fourth on Broadway.

Flowers from Desert Adorn St. Ann's For Easter

Easter flowers and Easter eggs; Easter bonnets and Easter frocks; Easter sunshine and Easter guests, all were a part of yesterday's celebration at St. Ann's Inn, where Manager Robert L. Bisby dispensed lavish hospitality all afternoon and evening to hosts of delighted guests.

Plans to celebrate the great church holiday with special dinner and delightful features for children, were outlined by the manager some two weeks ago, and in response to the friendly letters which he sent out, reservations came pouring in until yesterday, from 12 o'clock until 8 p. m., there was a constant stream of diners.

Mr. and Mrs. Bisby and Mrs. Mabel Isaacson had made a trip to the desert and mountains to secure the flowers with which foyer and dining-room were decked, and the result was beautiful beyond description. Great baskets of strangely formed and colored desert plants were used effectively on the wide window ledges, while in the dining-room, silver vases and tulle-tied baskets held the more delicate mountain flowers. Blue lupines were especially lovely in the slender silver vases.

But flowers were not alone in the decorative effects, for at the dining-room entrance, quantities of colored eggs filled large baskets guarded by a lovely doll lady in dazzling Easter attire, and were given to the children as favors. And occasional tables bore other dainty doll figures, all in quaint period costumes with fetching Easter bonnets, and all dressed by the clever hands of Mrs. Bisby.

But it was the sweeping garden of the Inn that presented the most charming effect of all, for there the management had secreted dozens and dozens of colored eggs, and every child that came rolled through the grass and vines, hunting the trophies and scurrying to Mother and Daddy to display their treasure. Bunnies that had undoubtedly laid the eggs, were there to be admired and stroked, and oh what fun, when one occasionally slipped out of the cage and went "hippy-hippy" as Peter Rabbit says, over around the fountain or in behind the ranunculus!

Among the scores of guests for the day were many from Santa Ana including Mr. and Mrs. George Smith and party; Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Liebig and party; Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Smart and party; Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Estes, Miss Myrtle Vencil and others of this city; Mrs. A. A. Halsey, Sierra Madre; Miss Ruth Lichty, Falls City, Neb.; Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Sawyer, Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Brown, Mrs. C. W. MISS CLEO BOWERS BECOMES BRIDE AT EASTER CEREMONY

MISS CLEO BOWERS WHO YESTERDAY AFTERNOON AT 5 O'CLOCK BECAME THE BRIDE OF FRED W. HEIN OF ANAHEIM, AT A BEAUTIFUL EASTER WEDDING IN THE FIRST METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH.

Surrounded by hosts of friends who know and love her well, gowned in bridal white as snowy as the waxen petals lilies that banked an Easter altar, Miss Cleo Grace Bowers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Bowers, 1520 West Washington avenue, yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock, spoke the vows that made her the wife of Fred W. Hein, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Hein, Anaheim, at a beautiful ceremony in the First Methodist Episcopal church.

The bride has been prominent in all church affairs especially the music, and her lovely voice has been a component part of the choir programs at the services. The pastor, the Rev. Charles F. Seitter, D. D., assisted by the Rev. Russell, friend of long standing of the Bowers family, conducted the impressive ceremony which was preceded by a musical program with Mrs. W. B. Snow at the organ.

Mrs. F. W. Slabaugh and James E. Hughes each sang beautifully, the former giving "At Dawning" by Charles Wakefield Cadman, and "Because" by Dardila, and the latter, "For You Alone" with cello obbligato by Edward H. Burns, and "All For You" by Bertrand Browne. Mr. Burns also gave a charming cello solo, with Mrs. Snow as accompanist, "Call Me Thine Own."

As the strains of Lohengrin resounded through the church, the group of young men who had acted as ushers, gathered at the west door, and then proceeded down the aisle to the altar, marching two by two. They were Messrs. Edward Schleuter, Clifford Elliott, Harold Birtcher and Samuel Walker, all of Anaheim and close friends of Mr. Hein.

As they marched to the altar, the bridesmaids paced down the opposite aisle, formed a veritable rainbow of color in their lovely gowns of georgette crepe, identical in fashion with sleeveless bodices, full skirt and transparent hem of chiffon. Each wore white slippers and stockings, and picturesque shepherdess hats to match their costumes, and each carried a tall shepherdess crook with variegated sweet peas and floating tulle ribbons. They were Miss Lydia Fisher in blue; Miss Irene Blower in yellow; Miss Hazel

Archibald and party, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Ruth, Glendale; Dr. E. J. Rowan and party, Wilmington; Mr. and Mrs. Louis V. Bender, Suconoma Mont.; Mr. W. A. Estabrook, Riverside; Dr. and Mrs. Willis, San Francisco; William E. Crocombe, Chicago, Ill.

Mrs. Bowers entered on the arm of her father, Charles A. Bowers, and made a lovely bride in a gown of soft satin crepe, fashioned with extreme simplicity and adorned with pearl ornaments. Her embroidered veil was confined to her dark hair in a cap effect with flaring bandeau of lace and she carried a great cluster of snowy sweet peas centered with pink rosebuds, and showered with single blossoms of the sweet peas.

As she approached the altar, Mr. Hein, attended by Clarence Raines as best man, stepped forward to meet her, and the wedding rites followed. The setting was very beautiful, as the altar was decked with a wealth of flowers for the Easter service. Arches were twined with smilax, foliage was in green and soft pastel tints, and there were many lilies, both calla and St. John varieties.

Following the ceremony the party left the church to the strains of Mendelssohn and proceeded to the Bowers home where a reception was held for relatives and a few close friends. In the receiving line with the wedding party, were the parents of the bride and groom. Mrs. Bowers wore a handsome gown of soft

It isn't the work. He likes that. It is the weather and the pests. Twelve hours a day makes him hard. Then, too, working in the earth has something about it that many of us like. But the bugs and the weather, Oi-oi-oi!

Nature says, "PRODUCE!" That order includes everything and devil take the hindmost. Weeds, too get the order, and can produce with the best of them. But the bugs are the champion producers. Weather can produce considerable. Too much rain will wreck a crop as well as too little. While a good wind and hail storm at the wrong time will help a lot, we guess not.

Then the farmer gets the short end of what finally comes out of his crops. He manages to exist, however. His existence is nine-lived. When he learns how to market his wares, he will exist more elaborately. More power to him and his Rolls-Royce.

The Excelsior Creamery Company pays the farmers a lot of money each year. The farmer is the real backbone of a commonwealth. We'd like to pay him more. We retain only enough to give us a fair profit after we have set down the clean, well-balanced milk on the patrons' porches in the way they want it, namely: Excelsior—preferred.

gray lace over orchid silk, and Mrs. Hein was in blue georgette.

A beautifully decorated wedding cake was cut by the bride and served in addition to those from the wedding party, Miss Gladys Finuf in soft rose taffeta, and Miss Bernice Finuf in flowered chiffon. Guests were given the opportunity of inspecting the beautiful wedding gifts, which came from Honolulu, China, Paris and many eastern points in addition to those from local friends.

In the evening, Mrs. Hein donned a smart costume of green and brown with green and brown cloak and hat and brown shoes, for the motor honeymoon which was to lead them northward. Upon their return they will establish their home on Mr. Hein's orange ranch near Seventeenth street. The popularity of both young people promises to make their home a favorite rendezvous for all their friends.

Many out-of-town guests were present at the wedding, including Mr. Hein's relatives from Anaheim. Others were Mrs. J. K. Boyd of Pittsburgh, Mr. and Mrs. Tyler Sawyer of Los Angeles, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Selsen and Miss Viola Bird of Tulare and Professor and Mrs. W. C. Tanner of Los Angeles. The latter were especially interested guests, since the bride served as flower girl at their own marriage when she was a tiny child. Mrs. Tanner was regal in an imported gown of black georgette embroidered in silver beads and worn with a handsome Spanish shawl.

BIG TREE MEN ON JUNKET TO DINE IN CITY

A caravan of automobiles representative of the civic and commercial organizations, business interests and resort operators of eight counties will arrive in Santa Ana on Thursday noon, traveling under the colors of the Redwood Empire association and the Redwood Empire Hotel-Resort conference.

The members of the caravan will dine at St. Ann's Inn. The Santa Ana Lions club quartet will sing and Clyde Downing will speak.

The "Redwood Empire" caravan left San Francisco on an eight-day tour of principal California communities, following the annual meeting of the Hotel-Resort conference and the "Redwood Empire Day" luncheon, being participated in by civic and commercial organizations, hotel and resort operators and business men from the eight counties, at the Mark Hopkins hotel, San Francisco.

The primary objects of this epochal "caravan-tour" are: to further cement friendly relations between the communities in the eight counties of the Redwood Empire, San Francisco, Marin, Sonoma, Mendocino, Lake, Humboldt, Del Norte in California, and Josephine in Oregon, and the communities visited. Also, to provide an opportunity for each to tell the other of the attractions found in the respective areas, and to devise ways and means of exchanging travel to mutual advantage and profit.

Those participating in the caravan plan to see, first-hand, the maximum tourist attractions in and near communities along the route of travel, in order to be in a position to more intelligently direct the touring public to points of interest throughout the state.

The caravan left San Francisco promptly at 3 p. m. Monday afternoon, April 18, following a parade through the city, Secretary George Raymer of the Santa Ana chamber was informed.

FRANK VAUGHN IS VISITOR AT HOME

Frank Vaughn, Orange county state traffic officer, who has been in a Los Angeles hospital since last summer, when he was permanently disabled in a motorcycle accident near Costa Mesa, came home Saturday to "see the folks."

Vaughn's home at Costa Mesa was made merry on his arrival, but he will return to the hospital late today. The homecoming was only a short visit allowed him by his physicians, so he could visit with his wife and two small children.

A check for $50 was received today from a Santa Ana business firm to be added to the Vaughn fund. The check brings the total to more than $700.

Beach Man Breaks Arm In Car Crash

Joseph Estrada, of 140 American avenue, Long Beach, received a broken arm and two women were injured in an accident just west of the Huntington Beach city limits, about midnight last night, it was reported today.

The three persons were reported to have been riding in a roadster which struck the rear end of a Julian Oil company trailer, driven by P. L. Kennedy, of Huntington Beach. The roadster was completely demolished.

Miss Hurtado To Be Buried In L. A.

The body of Miss Josefa Hurtado, 56, a member of one of the oldest Spanish families in Southern California, was taken to Calvary cemetery, Los Angeles, today for interment. Miss Hurtado passed away late Saturday at the family home at 313 West Broadway, Anaheim.

Miss Hurtado was born in Anaheim. Her father came to the Mother Colony in 1859. She is survived by her mother, Mrs. Maria Hurtado, and four brothers and three sisters.

Mechanic Finds Teeth In Gears

BAKERSFIELD, April 18.—When Fred Duns, local automobile mechanic, reached his hand into the differential of a car he was repairing, he got the shock of his life.

He brought forth a handful of human teeth. They weren't false, either, for a dentist pronounced them real.

"I can't explain it," said H. Kissner, of Bodfish, who owned the car. "I bought the auto second-hand a year ago."

Many theories were adduced as to how the teeth got there. The most popular was that a mechanic struck his head into the differential to investigate trouble, and someone started the engine, stripping the mechanic's masticating gears.

MUST IRON OUT LAW
WOODSTOCK, Ont., April 18.—Some difficulties about tourists need settlement before May 15, when Ontario will begin to assuage alcoholic thirst. Under provincial law a tourist camp is a domicile. Under a city ordinance possession of liquor in a city park is forbidden and the W.C.T.U. wants it enforced.

WINNING STUDENT IN H. S. ORATORICAL CONTEST WILL RECEIVE REGISTER TROPHY

The student who will represent the Santa Ana polytechnic high school in the fourth annual national oratorical contest on the federal constitution will be chosen this afternoon from among three contestants, all girls, who are rivals for the honors.

The winner will be entitled to compete in the Orange county finals Friday evening at 8 o'clock in the Santa Ana high school auditorium.

Ramona Lindgren, Mildred Crowe and Ellen Sneyley are the three girl orators in the school contest. They are to deliver speeches on phases of the constitution and the part it has played in the development of the United States. Miss Lindgren's oration is on "Progress and the Constitution," and Miss Crowe's on "The Constitution" and Miss Sneyley's on "Madison and the Constitution."

This year for the first time the Santa Ana representative will be presented with a large silver trophy cup given by the Santa Ana Register. The cup is designed to remain the property of the school. Each year the name of the Santa Ana representative in the oratorical contest will be engraved on it.

Public presentation of the cup will be made to the Santa Ana student orator at the student body assembly Thursday morning at 9:45 o'clock. J. P. Baumgartner, publisher of the Santa Ana Register, will make the award.

English classes and study halls were to be dismissed this afternoon for the students to attend the school contest.

The judges who are to pick the Santa Ana representative, basing their decision on composition and delivery, were Mrs. Robert Northcross, T. E. Stephenson and the Rev. O. Scott McFarland.

All of the county high schools will have contestants in the finals to be held in the local high school auditorium. Santa Ana has never won the contest since John Harper was the school orator four years ago in the first of the annual contests. Because of that, C. C. Stewart, forensic coach at the high school, is interested in again reclaiming the honors for the Santa Ana high school.

The student who wins in the Orange county contest will be eligible to continue in the regional semi-finals.

The international scope of the oratorical contest will be again carried out this year. From the seven regions of the United States, the winners will meet in Washington for the finals. There the national champion will be selected.

Herbert Weng, now attending Stanford university, international champion last year, recently addressed Santa Ana high school students last month, explaining the purpose of the contest.

Interest and respect for the federal constitution is sought to be cultivated by the contest. Each year, more and more students have taken part and the 1927 contest will surpass all previous ones, according to reports from the contest headquarters.

URGENT SURVEY OF FARM SITUATION

NEW YORK, April 18.—A general agricultural depression exists and calls for consideration as a national economic question, says a preliminary report of the business men's commission on agriculture, which will publish its complete findings this summer.

"The evidence which has been given is practically unanimous upon the fact of depression, but is varied and at times contradictory both as to cause and to remedies," said Charles Nagel, chairman, in announcing conclusion of nationwide hearings by the commission, which were begun last January.

"Some of the difficulties are regional and, it is hoped, ephemeral," he said. "Those who have been consulted practically agree that the country's heritage of fertile land is being impaired, and that for some, if not many, years we have been living on our agricultural capital."

Hearings were held in New York, Chicago, Des Moines, Minneapolis, Kansas City, Dallas, Memphis, Atlanta, Greenville, S. C., and the Pacific coast, and more than 150 persons from every walk of agriculture were heard.

"Some rural sections of the country, we are told, are virtually bankrupt as communities and are for the time carried by the more prosperous urban areas of the state in which they are located," said Nagel, who is a former secretary of commerce and labor.

"Even the most efficient farmers," he continued, "seem of recent years to have done little better than hold their own by cutting their expenditures below their accustomed standard."

"The commission was formed last November by the national industrial conference board and the Chamber of Commerce of the United States. Its coming report is expected to deal particularly with the congressional passage and presidential veto of the McNary-Haugen farm relief bill.

Hired Dance Mates Become Expensive

LONDON, April 18.—The hiring of professional dancing partners by London society women is proving costly.

A school of dancing that supplies reputable and skilled partners charges a fee of from one to three guineas for a "ice dance" and two to five guineas and expenses for an evening dance.

When it is remembered that besides the fee and "expenses"—which cover taxi fares and tips—the expense of the dinner or supper and the guest fee, if the partner is taken to a club, are included, the hire of a dance partner is a very expensive matter.

40 AND 8 MEN TO TAKE PART IN S. D. 'RITES'

Several Santa Ana members of the 40 and 8 society of the American Legion will go to San Diego Saturday to assist in the initiation of a number of San Diego Legion men into the "box car" organization. The initiation is preliminary to the "grand wreck" of the organization at Hipass, in June, in connection with voyageurs of Orange, Imperial, Riverside, Los Angeles and San Diego counties.

Among the officers who will be present are Grand Chief de Train Joe Plank and Past Commander William J. Murphy of Santa Ana. Judge Kavanaugh of the San Bernardino voltige, Chiefs de Gare John Burke from Riverside and Tom Cavett of Los Angeles, and Correspondent Mark Todd of the Orange county voltige No. 42, all of whom will be accompanied by delegations from their respective units. From San Francisco will come Grand Chief de Gare Jack Huston, head of the 40 and 8 in California, and editor of the Legion News, the official organ of the 50,000 legionnaires comprising the membership of the American Legion in this state.

National headquarters of the American Legion have delegated to the 40 and 8 the task of raising a sum of money equal to $1 for each member, for a fund to help the widows and orphans of their French comrades.

Madame Foch, the wife of the commander of the allied forces during the World war, will have charge of the distribution of this fund and the formal presentation will be made to her by officers of the 40 and 8 at the national convention of the American Legion in Paris in September of this year.

It has also been intimated that the society will be called upon to aid in the creation of a fund for the completion of the Ossuary of Duomo, the magnificent monument which will be the memorial and sepulchre of the unknown dead of the Verdun sector.

Both proposals will be submitted to the San Diego voyageurs and their guests by Chief de Gare A. F. Desseureault of the San Diego voltige, for formal approval and consideration of the means to be devised in securing the funds necessary to fill the quota assigned to the southern California voltiges of the 40 and 8 by national headquarters.

SHANGHAI, April 18.—Father Jaquenot, a Jesuit priest, who is the head of the St. Xavier Mission in Shanghai, comes from a French family and went to China when a young man to devote himself to religious and charitable work there.

He has lived the greater part of his life in China and is much beloved by all who know him, as his integrity of character and sincerity of motive are well known and highly respected. He never mixes in politics and never bothers about business, devoting himself solely to activities connected with the church, philanthropy and social service.

He is the visiting priest of the General hospital of Shanghai, which is the leading hospital there, having both paying and ward patients of all religions and social classes.

Father Jaquenot visits the sick of every denomination and cares for them regardless of religious differences. During the riots of 1925, when nearly all the Chinese students boycotted Christian schools, the School of St. Xavier lost none of its pupils, but closed its doors temporarily in order to avoid any friction with the masses. During that time the mission church lost none of its converts, and even service was crowded with Chinese worshippers.

British Abandon Boiled Mutton for Chicken and Pork
LONDON, April 18.—John Bull is abandoning boiled mutton with onion sauce, in favor of boiled chicken and boiled pork.

The old fellow still insists on having his meat boiled, also his vegetables. But mutton is going out of fashion. There were 20,000,000 sheep in England and Wales in 1908, but there are now less than 14,000,000. Poultry farms are springing up everywhere. Pig farms are also increasing and much more pork is being eaten. The acreage of cultivated land is steadily decreasing, but official reports show the land occupied by dairy farmers is steadily on the increase and milk production is growing. The number of persons engaged in agriculture and horticulture in England and Wales is 1,100,000 and has been practically the same for many years, in spite of the prevalent opinion that it is declining.

NARCOTICS ARE SCHOOL BOARD
STOLEN SUNDAY
BY BURGLARS

Narcotic thieves smashed in the front door of the Givens-Cannon pharmacy, Fourth and Ross streets at 11 o'clock last night and robbed the place of more than $100 worth of dope, according to a report filed with the police. Much of the dope stolen was heroine, it was said.

Besides the narcotics, $40 in nickels and $8 in silver was taken. The thieves overlooked $25 in cash in the cash register and no attempt was made to force open the cabinet containing the store's whiskey.

A screw driver was used to force open the narcotic chest and the lock and instrument were found on the floor by police, who discovered the robbery a short time after it was committed.

Police are of the opinion today that the thieves watched the officers on the beat at Fourth and Ross street, and robbed the store soon after Officer Wolford left this corner, a short time before 11 o'clock. Wolford discovered the robbery on his return to this part of his beat.

These estimated savings, available for unforeseen contingencies, are reported as follows: Junior college, $2,725.50; high school, $12,658.91; elementary schools, $11,789.53; and kindergarten, $4,143.37.

SHOW BANQUET
TUESDAY NIGHT

Exhibitors, news writers and friends of the California Valencia Orange show will be guests of the organization tomorrow night at the Elks club in Anaheim when the annual banquet of the show will be spread.

Indications at the present time are that this dinner will be the most elaborate of all the annual banquets. Two hundred and 50 already have signified their intention of being on hand to partake of the turkey and trimmings.

"Doc" H. E. W. Barnes, president of the Anaheim Chamber of Commerce and likewise president of the Valencia Orange Show association will do the honors as master of ceremonies.

"We have prepared a wonderful dinner and some mighty fine entertainment," stated Barnes in referring to the banquet, "and we want the friends of the California Valencia Orange show to come and hear the latest about the coming event, which promises to eclipse all past records. Our preparations are far in advance of any of years past and we have every reason to believe that this year's orange show will be a credit to California and the nation at large."

Violates Parole;
Lodged In Jail

Charged with violation of parole, Martin Federhoff, 42, Santa Ana, was arrested by Sid Smithwick, assistant city marshal, yesterday and is being held in the county jail.

Federhoff was drunk at the time, according to Smithwick, and had passed a check of dubious worth, the officer claimed. He also had stolen some bedclothing and sold it, it was said.

Federhoff will be taken before Judge J. F. Talbot, today, for a hearing. He was released on parole several months ago, it was said.

HENRY MILLER
SON OF ACTOR
DIES IN SOUTH

Effects of Dope Over Long Term of Years Presumed
To Be Cause of Death

The gong in the battle of life has marked the end of the last round for Henry Miller Jr., son of Henry Miller, one of the leading American actors, who died early this year while his son was a prisoner in the Orange county jail on a federal narcotic charge.

Information received today in Santa Ana was that the younger Miller died in Mexico City early in April practically without a friend in the city. The dispatch did not say the cause of the death, but it was presumed here that his frail system was not able to withstand the effects of a craving for dope and the increased physical condition demanded by a life outside of the jail bars.

Miller was not mentioned in the will of his famous father, although the actor was known to have been a wealthy man. The fact that he was not given a part of the estate did not distress him so much as did the fact that he had caused his sire such grief and distress during his life. Despite the very excellent education which he had received in English schools, young Miller couldn't just "fit in" where in the scheme of life, he said, and he saw his brother, Gilbert Miller, become manager of a great theater and his sister become the wife of Col. Tim McCoy, former adjutant general of Wyoming, now a western pictures star.

He tried the movies and the stage, but he "fopped." He "got on the dope" and couldn't get off, although he was confined to numerous sanitariums over the nation.

When he left the Orange county jail, after serving ten months, he resolved never to touch the stuff again. He went from Santa Ana to Hollywood and from Hollywood to Mexico City where the clutches of death could not be denied. He died, realizing the certainty of his paying the price for wrecking his mind and body, but powerless to stay the encroachment of the Reaper.

CAFES FIND DOGS
GOOD CUSTOMERS

PARIS, April 18.—Many Paris cafes, particularly those on the Rue Royale, which would eject a person not immaculately attired, have built up a large clientele among the pampered Pekinese and poodle pups.

Shiny limousines draw up before the restaurants and Madame and Toto alight and go in for lunch. The dog is given a chair beside his mistress and is served first with a tiny bowl of water. Next comes a plate of tid-bits for the canine—usually morsels of chicken covered with gravy.

The luncheon finished, the bill for both usually comes to about 100 francs, or $4, and the dog's share of the meal comes to $150 or $175. A tour of the most fashionable restaurants has revealed that each serves about 20 dogs a day. A few have a high covert charge for canine guests, in the hope of discouraging the mode, but this does not seem to divert women and their pets to the cheaper places.

Automobile Boy's
Graduation Gift

Harl Crockett, member of the Huntington Beach high school football team and one of the class which will graduate in June, today was sporting a new Kissel convertible coupe, the car being a graduation present from his father, Phil M. Crockett, of Los Angeles. The Huntington Beach student resides in Santa Ana, living in the home of his sister, Mrs. E. L. Palmer, 1492 South Van Ness street. Accompanied by his father, young Crockett will drive the car east this summer. They will visit in Chicago and Waukegan, Ill.

DEPOSED EMIR
IS ANXIOUS TO REGAIN THRONE

OLD BOKHARA, Soviet Uzbekistan, Republic, April 18.—Bold attempts are being made by the deposed Emir of Bokhara, now living in Afghanistan to recover his lost throne and possessions.

Sending groups of trusted emissaries to different parts of Turkistan, he has attempted by means of money, propaganda and promises to incite the native Uzbeks against the present soviet regime. He also managed to smuggle across the Afghanistan border a considerable number of rifles and a quantity of munitions.

The emir, who is also the titular khalif of the millions of Mohammedans of this region, tried further to collect taxes from the natives to support his campaign, threatening them with the "wrath of Allah" if they refuse to comply.

To invoke their aid he told them that England had declared war against the Soviet, whose regime, he asserted, would be of short duration.

The peasants, however, refused to accede to these peremptory demands and appealed to the Soviet government for protection. Soldiers of the Red army were sent in pursuit of the emir's agents. Flying to the open deserts on fast steeds, the latter concentrated their forces by forming small battalions, which later conducted surprise attacks and guerrilla warfare against the Red army.

After several weeks of intermittent fighting the emir rebel forces were routed and their guns and munitions captured. This was not accomplished, however, without the loss of many bolshevik soldiers, who in many cases were taken prisoners by the fanatical Uzbeks and tortured to death.

PASSENGERS WILL WALK ON CLOUDS

LONDON, April 18.—Glass enclosed promenade decks, a dance hall, lounging and smoking rooms and a dining salon to set 50 people are some of the features of the British super-dirigible R-101, which will ply between London, Cairo and Bombay after its completion late this year.

Many mechanical details of the construction are being kept secret by the builders, but it is known that the motors will burn oil instead of gasoline and it is believed that inflammable hydrogen will be used for the lifting power instead of helium.

The ship will have a displacement of five million cubic feet, and all accommodations for 100 passengers and the crew of 50 will be built inside the hull. Promenade decks along the sides will be enclosed by unbreakable glass. There will be hot and cold shower baths, de luxe cabins with two and four bunks each, electric elevators running through the ship and an observation tower on top.

The usual journey of 15 days from London to Bombay will be reduced to five days by the swift R-101. Its route may be extended to Australia.

Nine Alleged Bank
Robbers Arrested

LOS ANGELES, April 18.—A halt to a widespread series of bank holdups, perpetrated in this city over a period of several weeks, looms here with the arrest of nine suspects, including two women.

Following the arrest of Joe Wyson, 28, in a Hollywood apartment, police recovered money wrappers, identified as having been taken in the robbery of the Citizens' Trust and Savings branch, at Pico and Bronson.

In addition to Wyson, police arrested his wife and Edwin Waterman, and following a search of the apartment found $615 hidden in a woman's shoe, it was said.

AUBURNDALE SPAN
CAUSE OF WORRY

Claim County Would Be Held to Account If Flood Waters Damaged Bridge

Although San Bernardino county has voiced no opposition to the proposed district bond issue in Orange county for the construction of a dam across the Santa Ana river at Prado, west of Corona, leaders of Riverside county seem greatly concerned because the suggested dam would back the water in the reservoir to such an extent that it might cause damage, according to a despatch today from Redlands.

The despatch follows:

"City Engineer George S. Hinckley of Redlands, who is a member of the tri-counties reforestation and water conservation committee, recently declared that he did not believe any opposition would come from San Bernardino county, although the dam would necessitate adoption of a new system of measuring the surplus storm waters to which Orange county irrigators are entitled. At present irrigators in that county are not permitted to draw upon the Santa Ana river except when the surplus waters flow as far as the Chapman avenue bridge, which is on a direct line between the city of Orange and the Orange county hospital. The dam would prevent the surplus flow from reaching the Chapman bridge.

Supervisors of Counties Meet
"Two of the Riverside supervisors met with the Orange county board several days ago to discuss the matter and present their reasons for objecting to a high dam at the proposed site.

"Recent floods washed out a bridge across the Santa Ana river at Auburndale in Riverside county, and the supervisors are now considering plans for a new bridge. But a Prado reservoir, if created by a 70-foot dam as recommended, would bring a water level within one foot of the bridge floor, as contemplated in plans now before the supervisors, it was said. And to raise the bridge and abutting fills 10 feet higher, as recommended by engineers, would entail a cost of about $50,000, it is said, which Riverside county feels is Orange county's responsibility.

"T. C. Jameson chairman of the board of Riverside county supervisors, contends that the bridge must be replaced soon, as an important traffic route has been crippled by the washout. The location of the bridge could not be moved, as the present one is the only practical approach to the river on at least one side, and paved roads lead to the river on each side. A bridge at the former level would satisfy Riverside county's need, and a higher bridge that would cost more would be required only on Orange county's account. The member stated if Riverside county proceeded to build a bridge at the former level and it should be flooded by an Orange county reservoir, Orange county then would be liable for damage. His constituents were backed by his colleague, Supervisor J. E. McGregor.

Liquor Reported Found In Home

ORANGE, April 18.—Six pints of alleged liquor were discovered by Constable George Bartley last night when he raided the home of Frank Anaya, of El Modena. It was reported today. Anaya was away from home at the time of the raid. Mrs. Anaya and small baby were brought to the Orange county jail but were returned later to El Modena. A warrant for Anaya's arrest was sworn out by Bartley today.

MYSTERY FIRE. 4 SHOTS. BLOOD BUT NO CRIME

This little story has to do with a mysterious fire, four revolver shots, a trail of blood, and two missing persons, the time being midnight Saturday.

Neighbors living near the home of Bud Fisher, oil worker living on Idaho street, La Habra were startled out of their slumbers when they heard four shots in quick succession. They were further excited to discover that the Fisher residence was a mass of flames.

Hastily donning such clothes as were handy, the neighbors dashed to the home.

"Has there been a murder?" "Are the Fishers at home?" "Do you suppose that both are dead?" These and similar questions came from the excited lips of the LaHabrans as they gathered around the blazing home.

About this time Fire Chief Wilcox arrived on the scene. Wilcox discovered that a trail of blood led from the front porch steps to one side of the dwelling.

Aha, it WAS murder, thought the neighbors, as they gathered closer together and cast anxious eyes at the thick bushes around the house.

Several women were on the verge of fainting and a number of men preparing to risk death in a dash into the house, when a voice piped up:

"I seen Bud Fisher goin' down the street this evening." It was a small boy speaking. Two men were dispatched to find Fisher. A few minutes later they came back with Fisher.

"Where's your wife," anxious voices asked Fisher.

"In Bakersfield," Fisher replied and the neighbors breathed freely once more. The blood spots? Well, he killed a cat on the steps the day before. Of the revolver shots, Fisher was not sure, claiming that his revolver was not in the house at the time. It is believed that shells which had been forgotten were reached by the fire and exploded. As to the cause of the fire, Chief Wilcox is unable to assign a reason.

And so a story that had all the elements of a real mystery was explained before the ashes had cooled.

AT THE THEATERS

Ricardo Cortez and Carol Dempster in a scene from D. W. Griffith's "Sorrrows of Satan," now showing at the Yost theater.

YOST BROADWAY THEATER

Once in an age there comes to the screen a picture that can be truly classed as epochal. Such a production is "The Yankee Clipper," now playing at the Yost Broadway.

"The Yankee Clipper" is epochal in that it brings to the motion picture public something new, refreshing and exhilarating in the way of entertainment.

The something new offered by "The Yankee Clipper" is the revelation of a chapter in American history hitherto untouched by writers for and producers of the silent drama. It is that period of a quarter of a century just prior to and during the Civil war, the era of the famous clipper ship which brought glory to the American shipbuilding industry and won for this country the commercial supremacy of the sea.

The refreshing element in this fine picture is the unhackneyed plot of a drama that grips your attention in the first reel and holds it through a well-developed continuity to the final smashing climax.

The exhilaration is supplied by the genuinely thrilling realism of a storm at sea, with the "Clipper" battling her way through a terrific typhoon around Cape Horn, and the lusty, red-blooded battle in which handsome and rugged Bill Boyd quells a gang of villainous mutineers after a great fist fight in which no holds are barred.

William Boyd and Elinor Fair are featured.

WEST COAST-WALKER

Ali Baba and the Forty Thieves, famous story which every child has read, forms the colorful background of the gorgeous Fanchon and Marco "Ali Baba Idea," now featured at the West Coast-Walker theater.

Aside from dances, golden-voiced singers and beautiful girls, there is featured the internationally famous clown, Pepito, who keeps the spectators in an uproar during the entire show with his characteristic comedy skits and clever interpretations.

Bobby Wolf and his Playboys who have proven to be one of the finest bands in the Southland, furnish the musical part of the program.

YOST THEATER

"Sorrrows of Satan," Marie Correll's famous novel could not have been given a finer presentation than it is in the photoplay now showing at the Yost theater for the entire week.

From the very first fade-in to the last fade-out, the film spells "Box Office." That—combined with the drama, pathos, spectacle and beauty which is Griffith, and which only a Griffith is capable of giving—makes "Sorrrows of Satan" a picture to be remembered.

That most likable of thespians, Adolphe Menjou, gives his usual nothing-to-be-wished-for performance. As "The King on Main Street" and "A Social Celebrity," Menjou won tons of praise, but when placed next his impersonation of satan, those characters fade into obscurity. Used as we are to the musical comedy version of a red-coated devil with horns and fork, Menjou makes Lucifer a modern man of the world, and does it in an understanding manner.

Ricardo Cortez, Carol Dempster and Lya de Putti, the other featured players, are deserving of words of praise. Cortez, in blossoming out as a dramatic actor, gives a fine account of himself. Nothing more need be said of Carol Dempster's performance other than to write—the perfect Griffith heroine. And as for Lya de Putti—Lya's like no one else—a revelation!

WALL STREET WON'T MOVE

NEW YORK, April 18.—Wall street will remain Wall street indefinitely. No uptown march of trade will disturb it as a financial center in the opinion of a city planning committee. Nothing but a catastrophe such as an earthquake or a destructive aeroplan attack, the report says, would be likely to cause its removal to some other part of the city.

ern California, Los Angeles, spent their Easter vacation at the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Stull, 514 South Ross street.

Mrs. Agnes Mills, of 422 South Birch street was to leave Saturday via Union Pacific for a trip to Billings, Mont.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Pleasants, of Rancho Santiago, William McPherson, of El Modena, and Miss Anne Robinson, of Laguna Beach, returned Thursday from a delightful trip to the Mojave desert.

H. E. Nelson, principal of Julia Lathrop junior high school, and Will S. Kellogg, principal of Frances Willard junior high school, who have been attending the principals' convention at Sacramento, have returned home.

James Walsh, of 120 North Lyon street, left last week on the Union Pacific for Collier, Kas.

Mrs. Agnes Mills, mother of W. L. Mills, who has spent the winter in Santa Ana, at 422 South Birch street, returned to her home in Billings, Mont., Saturday on the Union Pacific.

built, because it has not yet been authorized. It was explained that passage of the Orange county flood control bill in the state legislature would not necessarily decide whether a dam would be built. On the other hand, if the dam should be built, it would be inconvenient and expensive to find a new bridge in the way, it was admitted.

"As a compromise, the Riverside supervisors are seeking estimates on a truss frame bridge that later could be raised if the dam is constructed at Prado. The truss frame bridge then would be originally built at the same height as the wooden structure which was destroyed by the flood.

"Meanwhile, water users in San Bernardino county, and especially the citrus irrigators in the Redlands district, are anxiously awaiting decision as to what will be the measuring stick to show when the Orange county irrigators are entitled to the surplus flow of the Santa Ana river."

NEW CROP OF PEERAGES BRITISH HOPE

LONDON, April 18.—This country has been surprised to learn from some American newspapers that a number of notable British peerages face extinction. The answer is that they don't.

The misunderstanding seems to have arisen from hasty reading of a "passage in the new edition of Debrett," which shows that out of some 750 peerages more than 300 have no direct heirs. But there is all the difference in the world between having no direct heir and no heir at all in the case of a peerage.

The majority of the peerages to which succession in the direct line has failed due to war casualties are comfortably provided, with heirs presumptive, and most of those that are not may be counted upon to produce a crop of claimants, some of whom probably will establish his title.

It would take much more than a Guy Fawkes or even a World War to extinguish the British peerage. How much more one realizes as soon as he seeks the aid of the authorities in starting to probe the genealogical backgrounds of Debrett's cautious statement that more than ninety existing peerages "bid fair eventually to become extinct." If most of them ever do it will be owing to change of fashion rather than lack of legal claimants.

It sometimes happens in these democratic days that no collateral heir to a more obscure peerage takes the trouble to establish his claim to the title, which incidentally, is a somewhat expensive luxury. But the abeyance of a peerage can at any time be determined. And in the case of any notable peerage a shy heir, no matter how far removed, is likely to find the Herald's college on his track and a coronet crammed firmly by weight of tradition on his reluctant brow.

ELECTRICIAN KILLED AT FULLERTON H. S.

An inquest was scheduled to be held this afternoon at the McAuley-Sutters parlors, Fullerton, over the body of John F. Kryder, chief electrician at the Fullerton union high school, who was electrocuted Saturday while at work in the boiler room of the school.

Employees of the Pacific Telephone company and the Southern California Edison company worked more than two hours over the man in an effort to revive him.

Tunisians Turn To Tippling Tea

TUNIS, April 18.—A mania for tea-drinking has become a social menace here that physicians are trying to combat. Tunisians are rapidly becoming lazy and losing their sleep and appetites because of the habit, medical authorities claim. One doctor says he found cases of nervousness and eye disorders known to have resulted from the constant consumption of tea. Last year Tunis used 1,100,000 kilos of tea, compared to almost none before the war. Natives are said to be spending their entire incomes and even pawning their possessions to get it.

Each garter is stamped with the slogan: "U garter vote for Al Smith for President. By their garters ye shall know them."

"Afraid to Love"

PROHIBITION DIRECTOR IN CALIFORNIA TALKS BEFORE MEN'S BIBLE CLASS IN S. A.

Approximately 450 men and women of Santa Ana present yesterday at the meeting of the Men's Community Bible class heard Frank R. McReynolds, prohibition director for California and Nevada, intimate that world war veterans had returned from their over-seas experiences more convinced than ever that prohibition should prevail in the United States. Votes on the wet and dry issue in various states before, during and after the war, were cited that showed the influence of the veterans.

Referring to what he termed the "priceless victory" won by the Women's Christian Temperance union, the director said it "took more than 100 years to build up and centralize the national conscience to the point of establishing national prohibition," and he added that the "greater task is now at hand to maintain a national conscience that will insist on a strict compliance with the terms of the law relating to prohibition."

Pouring "hot shot" into the camp of bootleggers, McReynolds shouted: "Did you ever see a bootlegger who keeps his lawn mowed, who has cut the weeds from his garden, who takes part in any of the civic affairs—in short, did you ever see a bootlegger in your community of whose acquaintance you were proud?"

Declaring that if he did not believe prohibition could be enforced he would not be engaged in the work, the director said that to enforce the law it was necessary for all factors to work together, and he appealed for support for local police administration if the department is honest and efficient in its operations in suppression of the liquor vices.

"In any discussion of the ethics of a problem there are two distinct classes, 'for' and 'against,'" McReynolds said in opening his address. Continuing he said, in part:

"In the first place let me say that while those noble women of the W. C. T. U. have won a priceless victory, we of today in our indifference are permitting that victory to slip away from us. Never in the history of the temperance fight has there been a greater need for men of conviction, men of courage and men of action than there is today. Therefore, my reference to the ethics of the case."

"In order to refute that careless statement that something was put over during the days of our great struggle for world justice, may I invite attention to the record, not alone of our own California, but to other key states of the nation."

Boys Vote Dry
"In 1914, California on the question of wet or dry voted wet by a majority of 169,245. In 1926, California on the question of wet or dry voted dry by a majority of 63,617. In 1926 our boys were all home."

"While the boys were overseas Michigan voted dry by a majority of 68,624. In April, 1919, six months after the war was over, to satisfy the wets, Michigan again voted and this time went for prohibition by a majority of 207,520. "Ohio adopted state prohibition while the boys were 'over there' by a majority of 47,000. To satisfy the clamor of the wets four states after the war in November, 1923, Ohio voted again, this time dry by 189,472."

"Kentucky, one year after the war, in November, 1919, voted for state prohibition by a majority of 10,717, and Texas in May, 1919, by 26,000.

"While the boys were overseas Missouri defeated state prohibition by 72,353. Two years later, when the boys were back, Missouri voted dry by 61,299.

"What they said about our men at war they are now saying about the young men in college—that they are hip-pocket flask toters and against prohibition. Three of the leading colleges upon a vote being taken on the prohibition subject, showed these results: University of Michigan, dry 1247; wet, 620; a majority of 727 students. University of Cincinnati, dry, 1740, and wet 698, a dry majority of 1042. University of Minnesota, dry, 1248, and wet, 520, a dry majority of 828."

"Dr. Elmer Ellsworth Helms, who is an ardent advocate and an outstanding crusader for prohibition, says:

"We have reached the place in our national life where we need to do some straight thinking, out loud, that we may do some straight acting."

What Lincoln Said
"Abraham Lincoln in an address before the Springfield, Ill., Washingtonian Temperance society delivered on Feb. 22, 1859, said: 'Turn now to the temperance revolution. In it we shall find a stronger bondage broken, a greater tyrant deposed in it, more of want supplied, more disease healed, more sorrow assuaged. By it no orphans starving, no widows weeping, and when the victory shall be complete, when there shall be neither a slave nor a drunkard on earth, how proud the title of that land which may truly claim to be the birthplace and the cradle of both these revolutions.'

"What has come true as to Lincoln's predictions?"

"In 1926 the per capita income of the people of the United States is estimated at $770, or one-third more than in 1921. This is the per capita income has increased 36 per cent since 1921.

Incomes of the gainfully occupied in 1926 averaged $2010 as compared with $1537 in 1921, or one-quarter more than in 1917 and about 44 per cent more than 1909.

"What Are the Facts?"
"Health improved—This year every important cause of death showed a decrease from the year before. Mutual Life Insurance company's 1926 report says: 'The health of the nation is in all probability better than ever before. One million lives saved as shown by the death rate. Infant mortality showed a definite decline.

"Crimes decreased—Every age group had fewer commitments in proportion to population in 1923 than in 1910. Rate decrease in all commitments for all crimes, 37.7 per cent.

ment of the prohibition question we have but a small force of men and a large territory. These men are zealous in their work, faithful, patient. They receive small pay, work long hours and are assigned dangerous tasks. The major problems are the manufacture of bootleg, the source, the distribution and the transportation.

"One of the things that impresses me most in this position is the splendid co-operation received from the United States government."

"And, in closing, it's a good thing to remember—A better thing to do, is to work with the construction gang and not with the wrecking crew."

FULL GOSPEL DAY AT TABERNACLE

Yesterday was designated a "Full Gospel Day" at the Four Square Gospel tabernacle—and it was a full day, for devotions started a little after 4 a. m. and continued until 10 p. m.

Easter sunrise services were held at Hewes park, where Mrs. Anna D. Britton, the pastor, gave the Easter message. Easter services also were held at 11 o'clock in the tabernacle. Appropriate anthems were rendered by the choir of 50 voices, under the leadership of Mrs. Roy Roepke.

There was a large attendance at the evening services, when a sacred concert was rendered, followed by an Easter pageant. During the services several persons were baptized and others admitted into the fellowship of the church. The pageant was given by the pupils of the Children's church, the introductory welcome being by Edwin Winters, of Orange, a lad of 6 years. The conclusion was by Betty Thompson, aged 12, who expressed the hope that the audience would remember all that they had heard, and that they would practice the christian precepts in their daily lives.

BIG CROWD ATTENDS MARCY HEIGHTS SERVICES

The largest crowd in the history of the annual Easter sunrise services attended the dawn ceremonies on Marcy Heights, in the opinion of those who have attended a number of the services in the past. There was no deviation from the announced program, songs being given by the Santa Ana Boys chorus and several Santa Ana pastors taking part in the services. The short sermon was delivered by Rev. O. Scott McFarland, pastor of the First Presbyterian church.

Abad, as in the world Allahabad, is a Sanscrit term for home.

"Enforcement—In the enforcement of the prohibition question we have but a small force of men and a large territory. These men are zealous in their work, faithful, patient. They receive small pay, work long hours and are assigned dangerous tasks. The major problems are the manufacture of bootleg, the source, the distribution and the transportation."

"One of the things that impresses me most in this position is the splendid co-operation received from the United States government."

"And, in closing, it's a good thing to remember—A better thing to do, is to work with the construction gang and not with the wrecking crew."

Albert Rooke Makes His Comeback

Wins six-year fight for health. Now well and strong at 60. Husky as ever, he praises Tanlac

At 1836 West 39th Place, Los Angeles, lives Albert A. Rooke, a respected citizen with 33 years of active railroad experience. He tells of a very interesting experience.

"About seven years ago," says Mr. Rooke, "my stomach and liver went back on me. It was a most distressing experience. Nothing seemed to agree with me; I lost all desire for food. A sound night's sleep was out of the question, so I rose each morning tired and peevish. Then constipation developed and made life a continuous misery. I lost weight and could hardly drag myself around a good deal of the time. After six years of that I was all in. Along came the 'flu' when I had no resistance left. That was about the last straw. Nothing seemed to help me."

"On a friend's advice I tried Tanlac, and that certainly did help. I soon began to get refreshing sleep again, to eat with old-time zest. The distressing stomach and liver troubles disappeared. Briefly, Tanlac put me on my feet, with all my old-time vigor and enjoyment of life. I put on weight and after five bottles was as well as ever in my life. That was a year ago. I'm still in fine shape, as you see. Few men of 60 are as well as I am, thanks to Tanlac."

Tanlac is nature's own tonic and body builder, made from roots, herbs and barks by the famous Tanlac formula. Try a bottle—it may do for you what it did for Mr. Rooke. Your druggist has it. Over 25 million bottles sold.

Rigby has divided the women into two classes, the first, or class A, comprising those with handicaps of from 1 to 30 and class B those with handicaps over 30. CARDS, VICTORS OVER U. C.,
TURN ATTENTION TO TROJANS

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Cal., April 18.—With California disposed of by the most overwhelming track and field victory Stanford ever turned in at "big meet" competition, Coach "Dink" Templeton today called his Cardinal athletes out for a week of heavy training in preparation for U. S. C.

The Stanford-U. S. C. meet here Saturday promises to be the most even contested in years. Both the Trojans and Cardinals have their individual luminaries.

The Trojans have Charlie Borah, A. A. U. champion sprinter; Mort Kaer, All-American football player who is almost as great a low hurdler and broad jumper, and Barnes and Williams, two extraordinary pole-vaulters.

The Cardinals have Bob King, I. C. 4 A. champion high jumper; "Bud" Spencer, crack quarter-miler, and "Biff" Hoffman, probably the best discus and shot put man on the coast this year.

California was defeated 90-2-3 to 40-1-3, Stanford carrying off first places in 12 of the 15 events.

SPORTS OF ALL SORTS

Rogers Hornsby gave his fellow players in the major leagues a good illustration of the possibilities for a smart young business man when he held his ground and secured $150,000 for the stock he owned in the St. Louis club.

Hornsby, it is estimated cleared more than $50,000 on the stock transaction and while he is no longer listed as a magnate he is content as a menial laborer for the New York Giants at $40,000 a year.

There may have been other cases in which active players owned stock in the clubs for which they played. It was generally believed that Tris Speaker, for one, bought stock in the Cleveland club.

But Hornsby's case was the first to draw such prominent attention and it probably will be the last case because it is quite certain that the major leagues will adopt a new rule making it some kind of a misdemeanor for an active player to get title to any stock.

Popular to Slap Owners
It is a popular pastime to take slaps at the motives of the club owners and when the occasion arises to credit the stories heard that the game itself isn't honest.

Professional baseball, representing more invested capital than any other organized form of athletic amusement, no doubt has some faults but it must be said to the credit of the men in charge of the game that serious efforts have been made to prevent any kind of syndicate baseball.

It has been said that the New York Yankees cracked a financial whip over the Boston Red Sox,

When Babe Ruth was getting ready to name the price he wanted on a new contract with the New York Yankees, it was suggested by friends that he should seek some stock in the club, that is valuable and a first class investment.

But the Babe said he wanted his

PREDICTIONS ON BIG LEAGUE
RACE OUTCOMES NEED LITTLE REVISION AFTER FIRST WEEK

NEW YORK, April 18.—Predictions on the outcome of the major league pennant races need little revision on the basis of the form displayed in the first week of the championship season. Estimates of the strength in the National league apparently have been made accurately with the exception that the New York Giants were under-estimated and the power of the Cincinnati Reds over-estimated.

In the American league too much Athletics and not enough given of the champion Yankees.

Hornsby, Roush and Tyson seem to have made the Giants, although it must be remembered that the New York club is starting against the weakest clubs in the league and may look better than it really is.

Nevertheless, the team has polish and works smoothly on the defense. It has admitted hitting power and the pitching isn't anything to cry about.

Pirates Loom Strong
The Pittsburgh Pirates seem to be strong enough to justify the faith of those who picked them to win the pennant. There have been reports that Rhyme or Cronin would not do at second base and that Charley Grantham is not a championship first baseman but such predictions are premature.

The Cincinnati Reds have given reason to believe that the pitching power of the team has been over-estimated. An infield weakness, however, caused by the refusal of Hugh Critz, young second baseman, to meet the club's terms, has been mended. Critz and the club have reached an agreement and he is expected to be in his position this week.

Cubs Have Weakness
The Chicago Cubs have an infield weakness at third base. Joe McCarthy is using Stephenson, formerly with the Cleveland Indians. He expressed the opinion that Stephenson will do but others think not.

Too much stress apparently was laid on the addition of Ty Cobb, Eddie Collins and Zach Wheat to the Philadelphia Athletics. They are too slow on the defense. Many fans believe the team would be better off without the three veterans.

The Yankees looked like pennant winners against the Athletics.

Easy Money for Breeding

When Harvey Bear, Santa Ana high school's racehorse, clutched the baton and began cutting a magic trail on the concluding lap of the relay at Poly field Saturday afternoon, the fans began looking for the exits because they knew there was no enemy runner who could catch him and that victory in this, the last event of an extraordinary well conducted contest with San Diego high school, meant victory in the entire meet as well.

Bear did not disappoint them. His long, rhythmic stride brought him to the coveted goal in a hurry and Poly's 1927 dual meet schedule was a thing of the past with the final score 51 to 53 in favor of Coach "Tex" Oliver's charges.

The relay decided the meet after Santa Ana had come from behind in the last few events, scoring heavily in the high jump, pole vault, the mile and the discus. Musick's first place in the old Greek contest being one of the pleasant surprises of the day for local partisans.

Breeding Easy Winner
Harold Breeding, Poly's ace miler, encountered so many obstacles in the Coast Preparatory league meet at Glendale that he had to take third. Snider, a blond chap from San Diego, being one of the two to take his measure. Saturday was a different day, however, and Breeding, given fair breaks, took command early and, leading all the way made a show of his opposition. Snider elected to stick close to the heels of the tall pacemaker but soon realized the hopelessness of his task and gave up the pursuit, dog-trotting to the finish 50 yard behind, a tired competitor.

Breeding's time, 4 minutes, 35.5 seconds, was excellent considering the high, chill wind that blew a veritable gale down the straight-away all afternoon.

Running for the last time as a high school athlete on his home cinderpath Captain Bear flashed to the wire a double victor in the 100 and 220 yard dashes. He was not pushed in either race but ran 10.2 and 22.5 and these would have been even times with better weather conditions. Ted Stephenson, Bear's teammate, placed third in the 100 and second in the furlongs, noosing out Jones in a driving finish.

Cone Second in 880
One of the best races of the day was the 880 in which "Bud" Cone, a Poly sophomore, fought Jones, of San Diego, clear to the tape before he admitted defeat. Carlyle, another Santa Ana, came up from behind to grab third.

Ernie Velarde, Oliver's greatly improved little broad jumper, hoped beyond the 21-foot mark three Fred Storey's Blue Streak won the first race in 9 min., 55 sec. Seven craft were in the second race and nine in the third.

"No More Foolin'" averaged 24.6 miles an hour, the world record being a fraction more than 26 miles an hour.

FRENCHMAN IS HELD AS GOLD BRICK DEALER

PARIS, April 18.—Henri Rochette the French financier whose trial some years before the war for fraudulent company promoting excited much interest in France, has been arrested and charged with being the chief of an organization for defrauding the public by inducing it to put its money into bogus companies.

The judicial authorities took action as the result of a number of complaints received from distant parts of the country against a financial journal called Bourse et Finance, which, it was alleged, had deliberately "boomed" foreign enterprises that only existed in name. Bourse et Finance appears to have been not only a newspaper, but a stockbroking agency.

The victims, who are mostly small bourgeois, declare that they were visited by polite and elegant gentlemen, who invited them to subscribe for shares in companies with impressive names, such as the Societe Indo-Chinoise des Graphites. If any doubt was expressed about the value of the shares, the canvasser produced copies of Bourse et Finance, which recommended them as an excellent investment. All went well until the unwary purchaser tried to realize his shares. Then he found that they were not worth the paper they were printed on. The losses are said to amount to more than twenty million francs.

The two managers of the business, MM. Maixandau and Thorel, were arrested. From their cross-examination it appeared that a certain M. Henri had a great deal to do with the concern. M. Henri, on arrest, turned out to be M. Rochette, of whom nothing had been heard for years.

WASHINGTON LETTER

WASHINGTON, April 18.—It is reported on good authority that the French government is suspected of being slightly lukewarm on the American plan to erect elaborate monuments to mark the scene of each major action of American troops in the World War.

This is said to be one explanation of why Gen. John J. Pershing is now in France, taking charge of the matter of obtaining the necessary ground for the monuments. Pershing's vigor and prestige may be depended upon to make the necessary arrangements without undue delay.

Then, again, the general will be in a position to make any difficult decisions which might cause an officer of lower rank to pause and ponder.

Pershing, of course, is chairman of the battle monuments commission. He is expected back about the first of June.

One of the most remarkable post-war developments has been the multiplication of Pershing aides, cooks, orderlies and chauffeurs. There are hundreds of them now for every one who actually served under the "old man."

"It seems as if every chauffeur and cook who ever saw Pershing and France, and a few who didn't, are now claiming to have been Pershing's own, remarks one of the general's friends.

Colored men who commit murder or crimes calling for as serious a penalty seem to have developed a penchant for posing as former "private orderlies" to the general.

One such was recently hanged in Missouri and there was considerable ink in the newspapers about him. It was said that Pershing had intervened in his old servant's behalf. The negro's claim to service with Pershing apparently actually did get him a two-week reprieve while the governor investigated.

But it is declared here that Pershing had never heard of the man. His office, when appealed to on the completely erroneous ground that Pershing had intervened to save the life of another criminal in Georgia, forwarded the man's military record, but the record was poor and showed a dishonorable discharge. The Georgia negro, another "private orderly," was sentenced to life imprisonment, as was still another "private orderly" in Mississippi.

Sgt. Frank Lanckton, Pershing's present white orderly, went with him to war. He was injured and temporarily succeeded by a couple of other fellows before he returned, but the number of genuine "Pershing private orderlies" is very limited.

Capt. George E. Adamson, Pershing's present aide, was with him all through the war. There were three or four others, but two are dead.

The work of Pershing's battle monuments commission calls for erection of eight chapels, seven large monuments and 15 smaller monuments by Armistice day, 1928. Con-

Move to Protect Peaches' Alimony

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., April 18.—Appointment of a receiver for the large property holdings of Edward West Browning has been asked in a motion filed in the supreme court in behalf of Mrs. Frances Heenan "Peaches" Browning.

Mrs. Browning's attorneys, Epstein and Smith, said the motion was made to protect her alimony rights under a temporary order.

Browning stopped payments of $300 a week a month ago, when the decision in the separation suit was given in his favor. Under a final order, signed by Justice Seeger, he is required to pay alimony up to last Friday. He is $1200 in arrears.

Strike Planned As Execution Protest

NEW YORK, April 18.—A committee appointed by El Nuevo Mundo, Italian daily newspaper, has tentatively set June 15 as the date for a worldwide general strike in protest against execution of Nicolai Sacco and Bartolomeo Vanzetti, convicted of a double murder in a payroll holdup in South Braintree, Mass.

A larger committee is to meet April 28 and determine details of the strike.

Seven thousand persons at a mass meeting in Union Square adopted a resolution favoring united action and the calling of a general strike.

The chapels will be erected in cemeteries. It is planned, with 30 projects, to mark the American battle line for 350 miles, from the North sea to the Vosges mountains.

Babe's $25,000 Check N. S. F.

Several years ago the Babe got a check for $25,000 from a firm for which he did some movie work and as he wasn't particularly short at the time he didn't dash to the bank. When he finally presented the check for some spendable dough he was told that there was no dough there.

The Babe is careless about money that doesn't rattle. He gets so much mail that he used to throw a lot of it away before he was told that he had a duty to his fans which caused him to get a secretary.

He tossed a whole bunch of envelopes away one day and through curiosity one of the members of the Yankee squad opened one of them and found a check for $2500 from a firm that was paying him royalties on some kind of a piece of merchandise that was using his name. While the Babe is the highest salaried player in the game, Ty Cobb is the richest and it is likely now that Hornsby is second unless Hornsby has been guessing the horses too wrong.

Cobb is rated to be worth close to a million dollars but the biggest part of his fortune came from smart investments made outside of baseball. It was believed once that Cobb had bought into the Detroit Tigers but he denied it to his intimates.

"What would I want with baseball stock? There's no real percentage in that," he said.

L. A. Fugitive Is Held In Chicago

CHICAGO, April 18.—Edward William Peters, 23, wanted in Los Angeles on charges of passing bogus checks, has been arrested here and is being held for California authorities. Peters entered a Chicago bank and asked for a check book. He said he was a motion picture actor and had $13,000 in a Los Angeles bank and $12,000 in a San Francisco bank. Questioned by detectives, he said his real age is 17, insisted he had money on deposit in California and denied he was there.

HEALTH CLASS IS TAUGHT BY DENVER PASTOR

DENVER, Colo., April 18.—It is impossible to have "a perfectly functioning body," Dr. Robert B. H. Bell, pastor of St. Thomas Episcopal church in Denver, believes.

So Dr. Bell has instituted a health class among members of his church in order that the principal "prerequisite to sold perfection" may be attained.

The class meets once every week at the church. There Dr. Bell, aided by Capt. J. L. Bell, army physician, lectures to church members on the importance of proper diet, elimination and exercise.

"Do not let anyone mislead you," Dr. Bell said, "into the belief that diseases are essential to saintliness. Too many dyspeptics have had a hand in the making of many of our theological opinions.

"Disease robs a man of ambition and takes his initiative from him. No man can be perfect in mind whose body is wracked with pain."

A good diet, Dr. Bell said, is perhaps the most important part of his health program. And fruit, he added, forms the principal ingredient of the diet.

"Get into the habit of using oranges and lemons every day," he advised. Use no sugar."

He recommended the following as the menu for a perfectly balanced dinner:

"Broiled steak with butter and lemon, baked potato, combination salad with oil-lemon dressing, and a little honey, turnips, lemons sweetened with honey, and mixed fruits."

The so-called Printer's Bible is that edition of the Scriptures in which the error appears: "Printers (instead of Princes) have persecuted me."

Do You Call Your Grocer, Your Plumber or Your Garage Man at 2 a. m.?

You do not. And if you did you would be greatly surprised if they agreed to serve you at such an hour. They and practically any other tradesman or professional man would tell you they were sorry, but you would have to wait until morning. Most everyone else would do likewise, but there is one exception. That one is your physician. True, He may ask some pointed questions to ascertain if there is a real need of his service. If he finds there is he will be on the job in a short time and he will come smiling. And remember his bed is just as warm and snug as yours and he is fortunate if he gets to it many nights before midnight.

YOUR grocer or garage man serves you in the day time and sends his bill promptly. You pay it promptly or the service stops. Many business men have suggested that the physicians should adopt this same policy. Business judgment recommends such action. But the physician serves Humanity and not an idol of silver or gold. He goes where and when he is needed. The thought uppermost in his mind is "How can I help," not "Will they pay me?" For such service he should be FIRST on the list when you are paying your bills.

It is absolutely true that your physician—and every one worthy of right to sign M. D. after his name—serves primarily from a humanitarian standpoint. Yet, he is human. He has his responsibilities and his obligations. And because of his professional affairs they are very much greater than those of the average citizen. He must collect his bills promptly. If the public does not recognize this fact the physicians of this state and of America will be forced to adopt the business practice of materially increasing the fee to all who do not pay cash.

You should not expect to conduct your affairs at the expense of your physician. If you owe him it is unfair and unsound to expect him to perhaps borrow money to meet his obligations while he carries your unpaid account and you go on paying your other bills.

Remember your physician is your friend. It is he who comes when needed at 2 a. m. in all kinds of weather. And when baby is sick it is your physician who is your closest sympathizer. Treat him fairly. Pay cash or at least put him near the top of the list on the first of the month.

THE ROMANCE OF AMERICA: Andrew Jackson

SYNOPSIS ARRANGED BY
DR. WM. E. GILROY, D. D.
SKETCHES BY KROESSEN

ANDREW JACKSON

In 1765 a farm laborer of Scotch-Irish stock emigrated from Carrickfergus, Ireland, and settled on Twelve Mile creek in North Carolina. In 1767 there was born to the Jackson family a son who was to become a bold duelist, a stern general, a chivalrous fighting man, a romantic lover and a president of the U. S.

Jackson's birthplace is in dispute, both Carolinas claiming him. The elder Jackson died just before his son's birth.

Andrew was a leader among the youth while the family lived near Waxhaw Creek, S. C. He was a tempestuous, enthusiastic but quick-tempered playmate.

The widow Jackson, with two sons, ministered to wounded American soldiers during the Revolutionary War. After the Waxhaw massacre of 1780 the two youngsters were captured during fierce fighting at Waxhaw church. "Clean my boots!" a British officer demanded of young Andrew. But he had picked the wrong boy. (Continued)

THE TINYMITES

STORY BY HAL COCHRAN—PICTURES BY KNICK

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

The Hot Cross Bun man went away and all the bunch began to play. They found a monstrous hanging swing, that dropped down from a tree. "Oh, look," said Clowzy, "let's all swing. I'll show you how to work that thing. I'll give you all a ride, and then, you do the same for me."

The Tynmites thought that plan was fine, and soon they formed a happy line, and each took turns at swinging high, and sailing through the air. When Coppy stood up on the seat, which Clowzy thought quite indiscreet, wee Clowzy yelled, "You'd best sit down. You'll fall right out of there."

When all the rest of them had tried the wondrous swing, and had their ride, they laughed to watch old Clowzy as he jumped upon the board. "Now, go ahead," he cried aloud, and he was pushed by all the crowd. "I would really almost scare you if you knew how high he soared."

And then, with very clever bound, the rider jumped down to the ground. "I think we'd best find shelter," he exclaimed to all the rest. "It feels just like it's going to rain." And so they all looked round in vain. They knew that they would all get soaked, the way way that they were dressed. Said "Scouty," "What's that over there? A bushy shoot? Well, I declare, say, if there's room for all of us, that sure will bring me joy." The black umbrella looked so big, the Tynmites almost danced a jig. And when they peeked beneath the thing they found a little boy.

"Here, you can have this umbrella," the boy had said. "I'm going to shoot. I've asked the rain to go away, but it has done no good." And as he disappeared from sight, the rain came down with all its might, and all the Tynmites huddled up as closely as they could.

PLAY- WORK

IS COOKING
TO EFFIE—A RECIPE

NEW YORK, April 18.—Leisure should be productive, according to industrious old New England tradition. Busy fingers keep minds happy. Laziness and idle moments breed discontent.

Effie Shannon, who, as Miss Trafalgar Gower, is play-sister of John Drew in the all-star cast of "Trelawney of the Wells," is the personification of the truth of this tradition. Born in Boston, she inherited the idea that recreation should get folks somewhere.

Happiness Formula

"Work that gives you expression. Play that brings satisfactory results." That is her simple formula for happiness. It must also be good as a recipe for eternal youth, one thinks, seeing this ever-young actress with her zestful enjoyment of life.

Gardening and cooking are the

two favorites of Miss Shannon's pastime. During the years when she was an ingenue member of John Drew's cast, when she was starred by Daniel Frohman and David Belasco, the delicate tea-cakes she grew and the delicious chocolate cakes she baked were almost as famous as the beautiful characters she portrayed.

Choicest Delicacy

Of all her delicacies, the following recipe for curried chicken is most popular with Miss Shannon's stage friends: "Select a coarse grained chicken—fine ones do not make good curry. Boil the chicken until tender, then take it out of broth, disjoint it and skin. When cold, rub in the currie powder. Peel one apple, slice it; two onions, sliced, and fry in butter until brown. Add a tablespoon of chutney, then put in your chicken, toss it about until hot, and then cover with a pint and a half of the broth; let it all come to a boil. Serve with steamed rice."

Queer Quirks of - NATURE -

A WILDERNESS ARCHITECT

The Beaver Lodge

Here is an animal that builds himself a home that far outclasses the primitive dwellings of many savage races of humans.

The beaver's house occupies about as much floor space as the average two-car garage. It is six to eight feet high at the center, with thick, frost and enemy-proof walls, and carefully planned underwater doorways.

The building material is brush, sticks and mud. The sticks and brush the beaver cuts and rafts out to the place where the house is under construction. The mud he carries in his forearms, holding it against his body. When it has been patted into place he smooths it.

Beavers dwell in communities and every member of the colony does his share of the work of building lodges and dams. They are shy animals and do not usually begin their work until dusk has fallen. During a busy season they continue to labor until daybreak, when they again retire to the shelter of house or bank den.

If an intruder approaches, the first beaver to discover him gives a warning to the entire colony by slapping his heavy tail loudly on the water. This noise carries a long distance and can be heard over the entire pond. It is instantly repeated by one of the older members of the band. Then there are repeated splashes

INLOOK BAD? TRY OUTLOOK

By Olive Roberts Barton

I often wonder whether brains, ability, or a love of humanity play the greatest part in a man's rise to fame. One is struck constantly, in observing a man or woman who has risen to national prominence, by the enormous interest he takes in people. Instantly you find he is interested in you, what you are doing, why you are doing it, your chance for success—all about you.

The big man talks about you, the little man talks about himself. The little man makes you his audience, the big man makes an audience for you. It is very difficult to find out things about important people. Yet their reluctance to talk about themselves is not a pose.

Read the diary or impressions of a great man. He will tell you where he went or what he did, but usually through the medium of people he has met. Other people, outside contacts, descriptions of men who interest him, what they are doing, what they have done, what they expect to do.

Here is a little unpublished story of President Wilson:

When he was ill he used to drive across the Potomac, through Arlington and Alexandria, Va., to Mount Vernon. He got to know the children on the way.

In Alexandria a young girl used to wave to him as she played tennis. He always waved back.

One day he waved as he passed, but on the return trip he looked tired and ill and did not look up. The little girl was worried. She wrote him a letter and said she was sorry.

There came a beautiful letter in reply, not dictated, but written by himself. She has it framed.

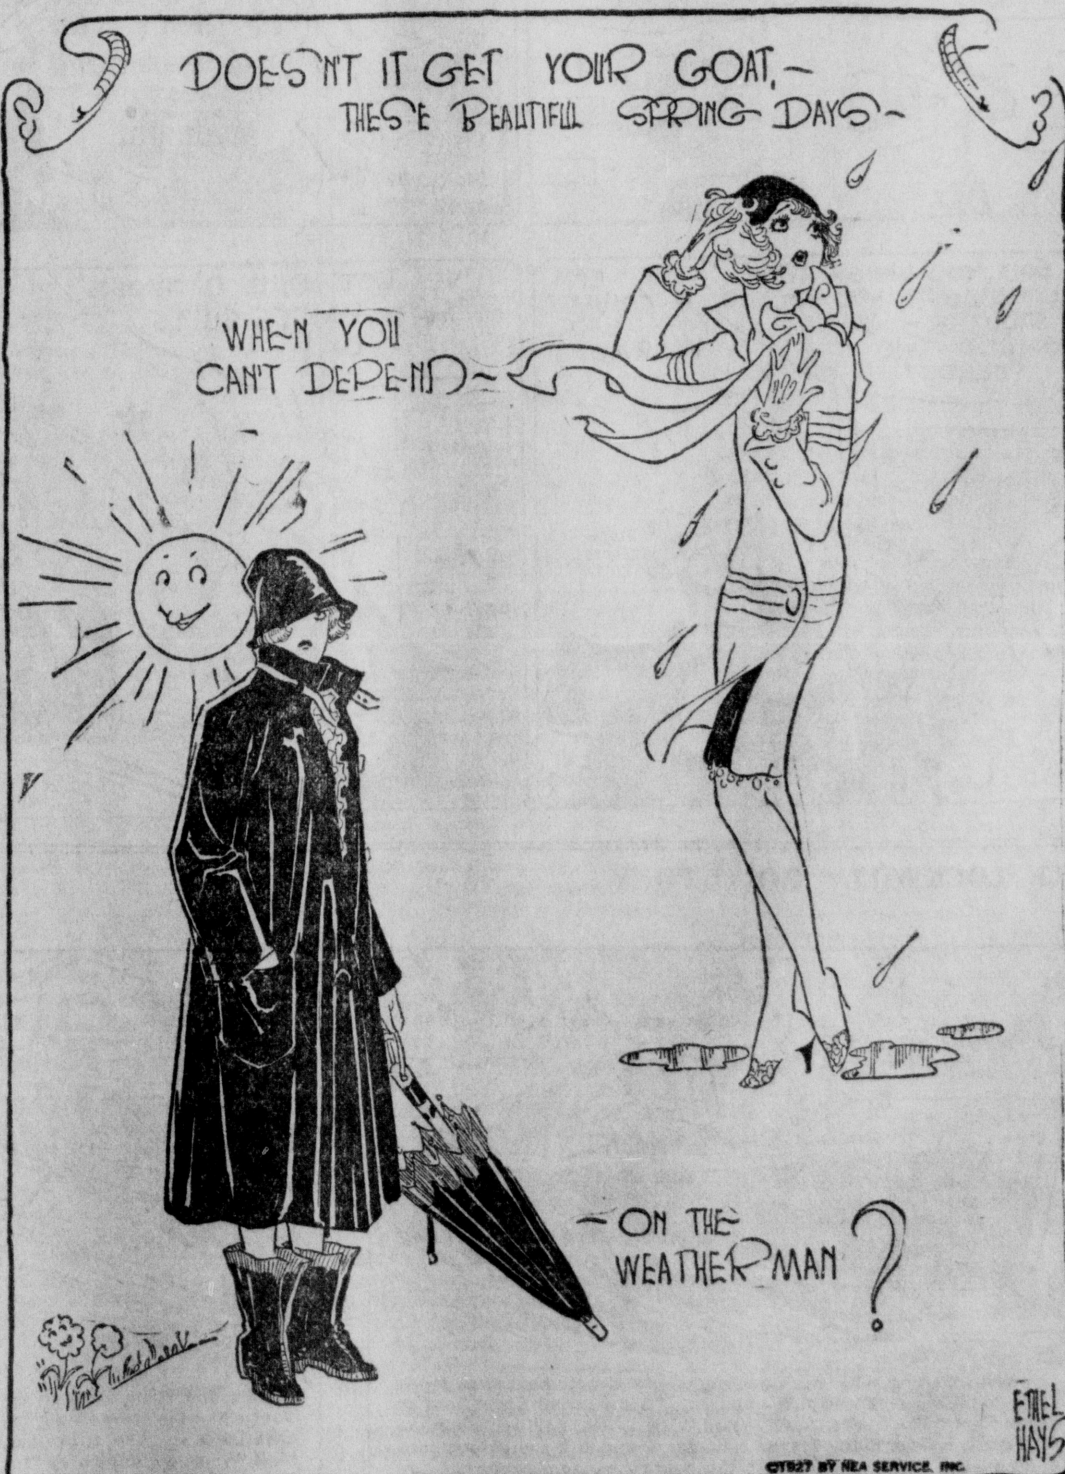

Not a political gesture—the kindly act of a sick man who had grown accustomed to think of others and to appreciate their thought of him.

Our own troubles, our own responsibilities, our ailments—everything ours! Why? There is an old saying, "When the outlook is bad try the unlook." I should like to add, "When the inlook is bad try the outlook."

For 11 years Mrs. Herbert Owen has been the official weather observer at Edmonton, Alberta, her station being considered the most important in the Canadian meteorological service.

THE WOMAN'S DAY

By ALLENE SUMNER

If you get tired of "the eternal old story of dinner-getting," with soup, meat, potato, vegetable, salad, and dessert to prepare, listen a moment to a word from Samuel Pepy's diary about the supper that his wife had prepared for him when he returned from the day's arduous labors:

"My wife had got ready a very fine dinner—viz.: a dish of marrow bones, a leg of mutton, a loin of veal, a dish of fowl, three pullets and two dozen of larks all in a dish, a great tart, a neat's tongue, a dish of anchovies, a dish of prawns and cheese." We will sing now the chorus of that grand old song entitled, "Praise Be, I Was Born Years Later!"

WOMEN BANDITS

An 18-year-old boy, arrested in St. Louis last fall for his discovered plans for robbing Queen Marie of Rumania, has just been re-sentenced to a reformatory on another charge. He explained that he wanted to rob Marie, "just so's I could say all my life that I'd robbed a queen."

The boy is not so different from many women we all know who make homes miserable for their families as they moan about what they don't have, and inflate the home standard of living, run into debt, and put the emphasis on the insane thing of life just so that they may say "I entertained Mrs. Boom-Boom."

"KITCHEN BESSIES!" Another "kitchen Bessie" got into trouble. He was a 46-year-old Spanish-American war veteran. He was shot and killed by an 86-year-old Civil war veteran, "because he was always botherin' the women folks in the kitchen and talkin' too much and too fast." The moral of the tale is that the sooner men learn that a kitchen is the woman's domain, the better off they'll be!

WOMEN "FIGGERS"

Figures ordinarily are not interesting. But anyone who finds interest in the advance and present status of women may enjoy these. Eight million and a half women are gainfully employed in this country right now. This does not include the millions of women who work harder in their own homes than any of the eight million, but who are not paid a wage. More than 22 per cent of this number hold manufacturing or mechanical jobs. There are only 35 occupations not open to women. There are 29,000 fewer women in domestic work than there were 17 years ago.

It would be interesting to see the figures for 1937. Will the pendulum have swung backward, and will women be back in the home, or will none of them be there, and where will they and their husbands and families, if any, be?

TOO BAD

Mrs. Ruth Synder, accused of helping kill her husband, complained that among the many ills she suffered at the hands of her mate was the fact that out of his weekly salary of $115 he gave her only $85 for the upkeep of the home and to save. "I could not keep up my end on that," she said. I am sure that she will have the intense sympathy of thousands of women who manage to keep up homes very nicely on $25 a week!

Life's Niceties

HINTS ON ETIQUET

1. In introducing a man and woman, which name is spoken first?
2. In introducing a younger and older woman, which name is spoken first?
3. What is the very worst possible phrase for acknowledging an introduction?

THE ANSWERS

1. THE WOMAN'S.
2. THE OLDER WOMAN'S.
3. "PLEASED TO MEET YOU."

Why are there so many charming women today?

NEVER before have there been so many charming women.

WHEREVER you go, you find them. Vivacious, happy, beautiful, delightfully dressed in the most exquisite taste.

CLEAR, pink-and-white complexion, luxurious, well-kept hair, gleaming teeth, trim athletic carriage—these are almost universal characteristics of American women of today.

WHY?

AT first thought it may sound absurd, but one of the most powerful teachers has been advertising.

ADVERTISING has helped to teach us all that the real basis of beauty is health and cleanliness. We are the greatest users of soap and water in the world.

ADVERTISING has taught us how to care for our teeth, our hair, our feet, our hands and our complexions.

ADVERTISING has taught us how to dress—how to choose colors and fabrics and becoming styles.

ADVERTISING has taught us how to talk, how to entertain.

ONE REASON why so many women are charming is because so many women are reading advertising. From advertising they are learning the secrets of great beauty specialists. They are getting health information of inestimable value. They are learning the secrets of becoming dress from the famous designers of Paris and New York.

Advertising is one of the biggest reasons why so many women are so charming. Read advertising regularly.

Jazz Music Made Him Deaf, Claim

LOS ANGELES, April 18.—Jazz music made him so deaf he seldom got an order right, Nicholas Elkaf, 63-year-old waiter, told the state industrial accident commission in his application for permanent disability compensation. Elkaf said he was discharged from a fashionable cafeteria because he served beefsteak to a fussy woman who ordered caviar. He claimed jazz music had deafened him to the extent that he seldom got an order right.

GENERAL ROAD CONDITIONS

By Touring Department of National Automobile Club

The National Old Trails road between Helendale and Daggett is now being oiled. The approach to the Daggett bridge is still in very poor condition and travel to Las Vegas, Nevada and Salt Lake detour at Barstow over the Barstow bridge to Yermo.

Wild flowers in the Bakersfield district are now best in the region of Grape Vine and miles of them can be seen from the highway. The flowers at this particular spot are lupines and Indian paint brushes. The poppies are not so plentiful now except on the mountain at Wheeler Ridge. Here they can be seen in beautiful effect from the highway and one mountain in particular is a flame of color. East of Edison a short distance one will find spots of beautiful flowers and toward Tejon ranch the flowers are still plentiful. Route to this ranch is via Arvin, turning south at that point.

While it is now possible to use the new graded road over the Grimes Canyon route between Moorpark and Fillmore, it is only in fair condition. Recent heavy rains caused a number of slides which have since been removed but the road is quite rutty and fast time cannot be made over same. The old portion of the road from the watering trough over the grade is also open and can be used by motorists who do not desire to use the new road. Paving is completed to the watering trough from the Fillmore side and all culverts are installed.

The gravel road east from El Centro to Highline Canal for a distance of 16 miles is now being oiled according to recent information received from the Touring Department of the National Automobile Club. Traffic is being detoured on the Old County road during these operations. The detour is in good condition as it was graded by State forces immediately after the last rain. The period of work will be approximately one month.

The plank detour on main highway leading from Whitewater to Palm Springs has been eliminated as the bridge is now in use which was damaged by recent storms according to a recent report received from the Touring Department of the Na-

EDUCATOR DEFENDS FLAPPER OF 1927

SACRAMENTO, April 18.—Warmly defending the 1927 high school flapper, Richard J. Werner, state commissioner of secondary education told the convention of California high school principals that the modern girl is healthier, more sane in dress and more energetic than her grandmother.

"I refuse to see the 'good old days' through rose colored glasses," said Werner. "High school girls of today may wear their skirts to their knees and greatly endanger their morals, but I doubt it. However, they don't endanger their health by wearing skirts to the ground and picking up dust and dirt."

"They may bob their hair, but I prefer it to the rats and puffs of the 90's."

"Cynics may call this the 'jazz age' and regard it as an era of flappers and bandits, insincerity and money grabbing, but I can't share their pessimism."

Delay Is Asked In Dry Agents' Trial

LOS ANGELES, April 16.—A motion to continue the trial of Frank Farley and George Hudson, federal prohibition agents, held for the death of E. P. Ingmire, will be heard here Monday before Superior Judge Douglas Edmonds.

Continuance of three weeks is asked in an affidavit filed at the district attorney's office today by Attorney S. S. Hahn on the grounds that another case is engaging his attention and that adequate defense in the Farley case could not be prepared by April 27, date set for the trial.

The release of Farley from the county jail was effected today, when a bail bond of $15,000 was filed. Hudson was released late yesterday under $10,000 bond.

fional Automobile Club. The road from Palm Springs to Indio is in poor condition since the recent rains.

The Coast Highway from Carpinteria to Summerland is very rough but passable at the present time according to recent information received from the Touring Department of the National Automobile Club. The highway is being paved from present end of pavement to new city limits of Santa Barbara one mile. Motorists should detour via the Modoc Road.

Following is a report of present road conditions to Sequoia national park. Visalia to Three Rivers and Sequoia National Park—37 miles; to Giant Forest, 53 miles. Paved via either Lemon Cove or Woodlake and Three Rivers. State Highway is graveled to park entrance, 6 miles. The General's highway is double width and in excellent condition to Hospital Rock, and in fair condition to the Giant forest trail, 21-2 miles from Giant Forest. The wild flower display is gorgeous at this time. The Giant Forest lodge and housekeeping camps are closed at this time but will open about May 20th. Meanwhile, motorists with own camping equipment may use Hospital Rock camp, Potwisha Camp, or Ash Mountain. These are foothill camps accessible all year by fine roads. The road is rapidly being repaved and improved, and unless further heavy storms occur, motorists will be able to drive to Giant Forest by the first week in May. Mineral King road from Three Rivers, by State Highway to Hammond, three and one-half miles, in good condition. Not advisable beyond.

NEWS FROM ORANGE COUNTY TOWNS

AGITATORS OF RUSSIA BLAMED FOR CHINA WAR

NEWPORT BEACH, April 18.—Chinese battles are won by advance agents, who spread propaganda, and not by actual fighting, according to Henry Lancelotti, a wealthy globe trotter, who has just returned to his home in Balboa after spending 14 months visiting 23 various nations, in a globe circling trip. Sherman spent several weeks in China just prior to returning here. Most of the time was spent on small Chinese and Japanese boats plying between Chinese ports and Japan carrying refugees from China, and it was from the refugees that Sherman secured most of his information.

According to Lancelotti, said by Sherman to be behind the Cantonese movement, supplying Cantonese with guns and ammunition and spreading their propaganda in advance of the Cantonese armies. Bloodshed is rare in a Chinese battle, the traveler says. He declares that refugees told him that the work of the agents was usually so well done that when a battle was fought only a few shots were fired and then the whole Pekingese army would turn about and join the Cantonese movement.

Chinese soldiers usually have two or three uniforms, according to Sherman. The soldiers usually don the uniform of the army that is winning and become one of that army. The army that pays the best is the army that gets the soldiers in China, he says. Sherman did not have many thrilling experiences on his trip, he says. He was in several cities, saw many machine guns and barricades still in the streets. At one time he was riding on a train when it pulled into a town to find the station burned and the three workmen at the station dead.

Sherman, a deep student of human nature, made a special study of the effects of education upon people of the southern hemisphere. He declares that the educational work being done in the Malay, Indian, and Chinese territories is responsible for a great deal of the discontent in the districts, and declares that in time the educational problem will probably cause the European nations trouble.

The Indians, Chinese, Malays and Arabs are intelligent from a military standpoint, but they lack the initiative to cope with new problems, according to Sherman. He declares that these people, once educated, get an exalted opinion of their own importance, feel themselves fitted for the best jobs, and when they fall down on the jobs, because they are unable to cope with new situations, they become discontented and cause trouble. France and England are slowly recovering from the effects of the World war, according to Sherman, who declares that Germany is in the best condition of any nation in Europe. He declares that all of the German people are busy and that in France many unemployed persons are to be found.

Sherman spent considerable time in the far north parts of Norway and Sweden. Among the points visited on the trip were Holland, Norway, Egypt, Ceylon, India, Java, Czechoslovakia, Hungary, Greece, Turkey, French-Indo China, Japan, Bulgaria, Syria, Federated Malay States, Italy, Austria, Palestine, Germany, Spain, France, Belgium, Scotland, Ireland, China, and the Philippine Islands.

Ban On Oil Lifted But Rigs Absent

SEAL BEACH, April 18.—Oil drilling activity, which was expected to start here yesterday with the removal of oil drilling restrictions, failed to develop.

Intensive drilling activity in the Alamitos Heights section of Long Beach is said to have drawn the interest of operators who were attempting to secure leases within the city limits a few weeks ago.

There are no leases signed up here and no reports of any derivatives to go up, according to reports.

The Seal Beach trustees passed an ordinance several weeks ago setting yesterday as the date for the removal of the drilling ban within the city limits.

The program was as follows: "Up From the Grave," cornet solo, Robert Moll; hymn, by the congregation, "Holy, Holy, Holy." Scripture reading, in unison, led by the Rev. Charles A. Kent, pastor of the First Methodist church; Lord's Prayer, in unison; prayer by the Rev. S. Fraser Langford, pastor of the Baptist church; choir response of 60 voices, "Easter Alleluia"; anthem, "Christ Is Risen," by the united choir under the direction of Glenn H. Lewis; Easter sermon, delivered by the Rev. H. B. Moore, rector of the Episcopal church; hymn, by the congregation, "All Hail the Power of Jesus' Name"; benediction, Dr. Thomas Newlin.

The Rev. George F. Tinsley, pastor of the First Christian church, was chairman of the program.

SAN MARTINEZ MAY SKID OUTPOST RIG

HUNTINGTON BEACH, April 18.—Reports to the effect that the San Martinez Oil company will skid its derrick at Thirteenth street and Orange avenue and drill a new well were current here today, following reports that the well had been brought in.

Oil excitement flamed anew here Saturday when it was reported that the Thirteenth street well had been brought in. The excitement soon died down, however, when it was learned that the oil seen at the well, and which started the reports, was merely oil which had been pumped into the hole to make drilling easier.

Hard drilling conditions, coupled with lost tools and a broken drill pipe, are said to have decided the company to drill a new hole. Reports from reliable sources today were to the effect that the company would skid the rig and drill another hole at once. The present project is said to be about 3800 feet deep.

The San Martinez well is considered a wildcat.

Plaza Will Be Scene of Pageant May 3 and 4; 100 Will Take Part

ORANGE, April 18.—Nine girls from the student body of the Orange union high school have been chosen to compete for the title of Queen Valencia in the pageant to be staged at the plaza May 3 and 4. A different girl will be selected for each night. The others of the group selected will serve as ladies in waiting to the queen, according to present plans.

The pageant, over which two of the girls will rule as queen on the two different nights, centers around the opening of the orange Valencia picking and packing season. With Orange located in the center of a $12,000,000 citrus industry, the business men of the city arrived at the idea of staging the pageant to celebrate the beginning of a new season.

The nine girls will be the center of a cast of 100 girls who will carry the theme of the pageant. The entire production will be presented on a stage to be erected on the north-west side of the plaza. Music and dancing will be incorporated in the program following the crowning of the Valencia queen.

In anticipation of the crowds expected to gather to view the spectacle, the Orange police department has been promised the cooperation of American Legion members to assist in patrolling the streets and parking automobiles. Twenty members of the Legion will be accepted for this service.

Financial support for the affair has been given by the city board of trustees and by the citizenry of the city, thus making the pageant program a free proposition to all who will come and see.

Olinda Oil Well After Deep Sands

OLINDA, April 18.—The Chancellor-Canfield-Midway Oil company has resumed drilling on the famous Olinda No. 96, the well that set a world record depth of 8048 feet some months ago. It is understood that almost 100 feet of new hole has been made and at the new depth some brown shale cores that carry gas are interesting to correlate and study.

It is understood that unless hard luck intervenes the Chancellor-Canfield-Midway Oil company will set a new record that will endure for a while. It will not be surprising if the company is successful in carrying this world wonder deep well to 9000 feet.

On the Birch hill, the Brea Canyon Oil company is getting ready to bring another well onto production. The Brea Canyon has its well No. 40 completed at 8421 feet running the oil string. The well has been showing oil and gas for some 300 feet.

In the same area interest in the Shell company's Columbia No. 40 now drilling at 5425 feet is attracting some attention. This well is something in the nature of a deep test.

EVENING SALUTATION

In God's world, for those who are in earnest there is no failure. No work truly done, no word earnestly spoken, no sacrifice freely made, was ever made in vain.—F. W. Robertson.

IT'S UP TO THE COURTS

The question as to whether Santa Ana is to receive $10,000 from Orange county's gasoline tax fund has resolved itself into a legal question. In justice, a court action should not have been necessary; the board of supervisors, by unanimous vote, should have kept faith with the board of supervisors that promised the money. However, Supervisors William Schumacher and John Mitchell could not see that they were obligated to vote in favor of the appropriation, with the result that a court action has become necessary in order to establish Santa Ana's right to the appropriation.

While our interpretation of the law convinces us that the court decision will be favorable to Santa Ana, the situation is one that shows that the appropriation would be fair to all concerned. South Main street is a through street, subjected to the heaviest kind of traffic and destined to be subjected to much heavier travel within the next few years. Main highways inside incorporated cities have to be built with pavement much heavier and more expensive than would be the case were the highways used for local traffic only. The county can have no legitimate objection if the law finds that on a three-fifths vote of the board of supervisors the county is called on to pay for a part of the difference between what might be designated as local pavement and what might be designated as heavy through traffic pavement.

GOVERNOR WINS EVERY BATTLE

"Governor Wins Every Battle in Legislature" reads a headline over a dispatch from Sacramento.

That headline points to an unusual situation. It takes our thought back to the August and November elections, to victories won decisively by C. C. Young. The victories were not only evidenced in the selection of the governor, but also in the selection of a legislature, with the result that when the legislature assembled, two-thirds of its members were solidly back of Governor Young in his intention of giving the state the very best possible government.

Those who have been in Sacramento from Orange county return with a profound respect for Governor Young's sincerity. Those who were closest to him in the campaigns of 1926 find that they cannot expect the governor to sign measures excepting on merit alone. That was the estimate of C. C. Young as a candidate and it was upon this estimate that many thousands of voters of California cast their votes for him; C. C. Young as governor is living up to the estimate.

The reason why Governor Young has won every battle for legislation that he has undertaken is that his attitude and action have been based upon a thorough knowledge of state business and an honest desire to do the best possible thing for the state. His programs have been logical, not actuated by a desire to punish political enemies. Recognition of this fact has held for him the backing of the legislature.

WARNING FROM TRAIN DRIVER

The expert New York Central engineer, Joseph F. Coffey, who holds the world's record for locomotive speed—138 miles in 115 minutes—is a thorough believer in safety first for everybody and particularly for motorists. He has been a railroader for 34 years and has watched the development of the automobile driver who races trains to crossings and is a pest and menace to human life. He has saved a good many fool motorists by his watchfulness and forethought and his prompt application of the brakes.

Because of its size, he explains, a train moving at tremendous speed sometimes appears merely to be crawling. There is an optical illusion that tricks many drivers.

Coffey is not the only railroad engineer who has tried to warn the foolish motorist or who has admitted that the engineer's life is made more nerve-wracking and hazardous by that type. However, human nature being what it is, the foolish driver who thinks it smart or useful to race a train to the crossing is probably here to stay as long as automobiles and railroad trains stay.

The elimination of as many grade crossings as possible and protection of those which survive are surer means of saving the foolish motorist and his helpless companions from this danger.

NOW A CONSERVATIVE

Sylvia Pankhurst breaks into the news again. The younger generation may not recognize her name. The middle-aged will remember her as the fiery young daughter of the volcanic Mrs. Pankhurst who 15 years ago was leading the militant suffragette movement in England. The Pankhurst family for several years kept British politics in a turmoil, and Sylvia created her full portion of that turmoil. She was then, to England, about what a Bolshevik would be now, only more so.

Well, the fiery Sylvia, now gentle and broke to the harness of established politics, is running for Parliament. On the Labor or Liberal ticket? Not at all. On the Conservative ticket, against an incumbent who belongs to the Labor party.

Thus, having got what she wanted, like many another radical, this once dangerous woman turns respectably conservative. It is the way of the world.

When does the radio traffic cop get busy?

HAND-SHAKING FOLLY

It looks now as if presidential hand-shaking were in a fair way to be reduced to a sane minimum if not eliminated entirely. It is unfortunate that this reform could be effected only through actual injury to President Coolidge's wrist, which sustained a sprain at the army and navy reception in February. Yet suffering is sometimes more easily endured when good comes of it.

During the weeks of his enforced release from promiscuous hand-shaking duties, it seems to have occurred to various persons that there is no need to resume them to such unlimited extent as formerly prevailed. It was a democratic custom which may have been pleasant and easily carried out in former years. With the increase in our national population and the tremendous progress in transportation that makes it possible for vast hordes of that population to descend upon Washington, the pleasant custom has become a genuine burden to the chief executive. Only shortsighted and selfish citizens will bewail its passing.

That open door in China is doing a lot of slamming.

State Tax Situation
Riverside Press

The opposition to the pending tax measures, so far as Riverside county is concerned, have come from two sources.

First, these holders of intangible securities who had declared them under the 7 per cent intangible act and who felt that they were facing an increase in taxes of nearly 300 per cent, and from the finance companies, who deal with contracts for the sale of automobiles and other contracts of that character.

In the judgment of the writer both of the objections have been fully met by amendments to the proposed legislation.

One of these amendments gives the county assessor the same discretion in the valuation of these intangible credits which he now exercises in the assessment of other property. Taking into account the usual basis of assessment in Riverside county and the prevailing tax rate, the practical result will be that there will be no appreciable increase in the tax on these securities as compared to that paid under the 7 per cent plan.

The second amendment regarding solvent credits seems fully to meet any danger of double taxation and should fully protect the companies dealing in automobile contracts and those who purchase automobiles under contracts as well.

This amendment declares that it is not intended to tax a contract as a solvent credit where the title is retained in the original owners and the article itself is taxed.

It is, of course, to be regretted that there should be any change in tax rates or in the system of taxation at this time. The law providing for a 7 per cent basis of assessment for intangible securities has only been in effect a year; and both assessors and taxpayers have therefore, just begun to accustom themselves to it. The present crisis in tax affairs was, however, brought about by court decisions; and that was something that could not be foreseen or prevented. The rulings came and a situation developed that had to be dealt with by the present legislature, otherwise not only would serious loss of revenue to the state, and to counties result but complications would follow that seemed liable to prove serious and far reaching.

The county assessment of intangible securities for the present year will be made on the 7 per cent valuation basis, as that was the law when the assessments were due on March 1. There will be an entire year to make plans for the new laws; and so far as Riverside county is concerned the writer believes that the law will be so interpreted and enforced that owners of intangible securities will suffer no hardship, the holders of automobile contracts will face no added burden of taxation, and the county assessor will be able to work out adjustments that will protect the county from any loss of revenue.

It should be remembered that the tax legislation enacted passed both houses of the legislature with only a few scattering votes in opposition; and that is good evidence of the necessity for action taken and of confidence in the essential justice of the amendments passed.

Fifty-One Hours in Air

San Francisco Chronicle

There is nothing particularly thrilling in the record endurance flight of Acosta and Chamberlin. Endurance tests seldom are thrilling in any kind of competition. They are often, however, more important than spectacular feats which set the blood to tingling.

The two Americans remained in the air fifty-one hours and twelve minutes, and the United States now holds the palm for that sort of flying. The new record is more than 13 per cent better than the previous one, and that is considerable of a jump. It indicates an advance in flight engineering, for the problem, after all, was one of increasing the power in a greater ratio than the added weight of the fuel supply. It is gratifying that American aeronauts have shown such an advance, although, we may not expect the record to stand. It will undoubtedly be passed by some of our foreign competitors. Then we can go after it again. In a science so young and with rivalry so keen new flying records are bound to be made frequently.

The distance covered by the flyers would have taken them across the Atlantic and back. If that had been their flight it would have had much more of an appeal to the popular imagination, for it would have had risks entirely absent in the endurance test. At any time during their fifty-one hours in the air Acosta and Chamberlin could have come down to earth had trouble developed. The achievement is that they didn't have to come down. But it would have been a different kind of feat if nothing but the wild waves had been there for a landing place. Some day it will appear odd that a fifty-one hour flight seemed worth talking about. But it is quite worth it now, so let us talk about it and give honor to those who did it.

IF VITAMIN C IS MISSING, SCURVY RESULTS

For at least four centuries men have been acquainted with the disease known as scurvy, in which there is loss in weight, anemia, swelling of the legs and ankles, swelling and bleeding of the gums, and hemorrhages under the skin all over the body.

The search for the cause and cure of this disorder culminated in the development of the fact that it results from an absence of vitamin C in the diet. Vitamin C is the most easily destroyed of all of the vitamins. Although present in milk, it disappears when milk is heated in the process of pasteurization, especially if it comes into contact with the air. For this reason babies suffered particularly with scurvy, even under good conditions in this country.

A Scotch physician named James Lind wrote a book about scurvy in 1757, in which he pointed out that the disease appeared when persons were deprived of all fresh raw vegetables and fruits. Today it has been definitely demonstrated that the giving of appropriate amounts of fresh orange juice, tomato juice, or even the juices of turnips or potatoes will prevent this disease in infants. It is particularly important that such fresh fruit juices be given when the baby is fed largely on pasteurized cow's milk.

Dr. E. V. McCollum points out that there has been a growing tendency in recent times for people to live more and more on bread, cooked meats, canned foods and otherwise sophisticated and refined food preparations. This tendency is unfortunate because such foods do not provide sufficient amounts of vitamin C.

Tomatoes, celery, carrots, raw cabbage, lettuce, watercress and any other vegetables that can be eaten raw are important in providing this substance to the diet. When the materials are cooked and exposed to the air at the same time, the vitamin is destroyed and must be provided in some other manner.

It is not surprising that every third person in California owns an automobile. Conditions are so favorable for getting the fullest use and enjoyment out of a motor vehicle that every responsible individual in the state has reason to desire the possession of a car.

Boulevards, leading in every direction; inspiring scenery, whether of the coast, the mountains or the valley; a climate that not only permits but invites motoring the year around; business openings and investment opportunities that attract the interest of the public; these are some of the explanations for the popularity of "the open road" and the demand for automobiles.

Another factor of great moment is the amount of pleasure and service which the motorist gets for his dollar. Never in the history of the automotive industry was it possible to buy so much car for so little money; and where else than in Los Angeles county can gasoline be purchased for 14 1/2¢ per gallon?

It is not to be expected, of course, that the price will continue to be so cheap; but on account of the centralizing of the oil refining business in this locality, Southern California always will have the benefit of the lowest cost for this fuel.

Nor will automobiles always be so low priced. There are indications of an uncertain status in the factory areas; but instead of further breaks in the retail quotations, it is not improbable that this condition is preliminary to consolidation and standardization, with the result that prices will be stabilized, for an upward tendency. True, this is conjecture; but anyone who has followed American manufacturing methods knows that the unexpected sometimes happens. For this reason, the average buyer of an automobile is content to take a sporting chance on a car with an established reputation, knowing that, no matter what the price may be next year, he is getting his money's worth today.

The greatest problem with which California is confronted is to keep pace in road building with the increase in number of automobiles and trucks.

BLESSINGS

(The following poem was written in 1912 by the Rev. Mr. A. A. Benton, Episcopal clergyman, during the hour just before his sudden death. The Rev. Mr. Benton was the father of the Rev. Mr. W. L. H. Benton, rector of the Church of the Messiah, Santa Ana.)

Exult, O thankful heart, for all the gracious gifts
That daily fall from God's Right Hand.
As countless as the myriad grains of desert sand,
As silent as the flakes of snow that softly sift,
Yet ever fall more freely forth at His command.
As shows the lovely frost-lace on the window glass,
Its beauty and its glory in the flooding ray,
So gleaming on my screen of life, as speeds each day,
Unceasing mercies, patterned there, shall overpass
The frost-work's loveliness, which melts and has no stay,
But mine, swift-melting into subtle acts that play
A living part in others' life, though shared, abide with me
Until Thy summons call my joyous soul to live with Thee.

GOLFERS' DESPAIR

"Hear about poor old Slyce? Why did he do it? He'd stood up under all sorts of hard luck."

"I know it. First, shipwreck, panics, divorces—we figured he was case-hardened, and now he's gone."

"Jumped off that cliff by the third tee, didn't he?"

"Yes—just scrawled a note and left it with his clubs."

"What'd it say?"

"It said, 'This is too much. Have just made a hole in one, without a single witness. Good-by.'—Life."

Little Benny's
Note Book

Sunday afternoon it was raining pretty hard but not awful hard, and I was standing at the living room window watching the back yard getting wetter instead of dryer, and pop was reading different parts of the Sunday paper and I started to wonder if he would leave me go out a while, and I said, Well, it still seems to be raining a little.

That's putting it mildly, yee gods, pop said.

Meaning it was raining more than a little, and I said, Well holy smokes, pop, you couldn't say it was coming down cats and dogs, could you?

Well perhaps not, if you wanted to make a fine distinction like that I should say it was coming down about like rabbits and dogs, pop said.

Well G wizzlers, pop, gosh, G wincklers, its not pouring, I said.

True enuff, but its teeming, pop said. However, I admit its not coming down in sheets, which seems to be one point in your favor, he said.

Me not saying anything for a while, and then I said, Enyways, pop, Ive often saw it rain harder than this, and pop said, Yes, indeed, O yes, and I red about one rain that lasted 40 days and 40 nights and made quite a flood.

O that, that was Noah's, I said, and pop said, Yes, that was the name of the owner, I believe.

Well enyways, jimmies Chissmas, pop, this aint anything like that, you cant even compare it to it, I said, and pop said, No indeed, Id be surprised to see this rain last event 4 days and nites, much less 40, Noah would probably consider this a meep sprinkle, but of course I havent had Noah's experience.

Meeting he considered it a pretty hard of a rain, and I decided not to ask if I could go out in it and started to read the funny pages over agen insted.

In the Long Ago

From the Register Files

APRIL 18, 1913

J. C. Metzger, secretary of the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce, received a check for $300 from J. Fred Althorn, secretary of the Anaheim Board of Trade, as Anaheim's contribution toward the relief fund for victims of the floods in the middle west.

One automobile, one motorcycle, three bicycles and two robes were stolen from the circus grounds during the evening performance of the Sells-Floto circus. The automobile was owned by Hugh Plumb, of Tustin, the motorcycle by Edwin Mueller, the bicycles by T. R. Johnson, W. Smith and W. M. Fry, and the robes by R. L. Tedford and Ray McClintock.

John Carlyle, secretary of the Orange County Fish and Game Protective association, wired State Senator John N. Anderson, asking that he support the measure making it unlawful to maintain any hunting preserves unless the public be permitted to hunt upon them.

The Boy Scouts of the Tiger patrol and their scoutmaster, Nelson Veenschoten, returned from a three days' visit to Laguna Beach. The boys included Robert Boyd, leader; Earl Bowers and Robert Anderson, Wesley Jayne, Guy York, Cecil Moon, Darwin York, Claude Robertson, Edward Dunn and Wilbert Pickas.

Senators Candidacy

Almost Announced

Senator Hiram Johnson has not yet announced his candidacy for the senate next year, but when his office at San Francisco sends out a recent editorial comment from the Washington Star, we think we understand. The Star, by the way, is no thick-and-thin admirer of the leading Californian, so its rather friendly statement might be in the way of tribute to his most recent and outstanding battle for the Colorado river legislation. That gave him the widest and most favorable mention of anything he has done since he made that first magnificently courageous stand against the League of Nations, when President Wilson came back from Europe with a treaty that was to be ratified by the senate without the crossing of a "U" or the dotting of an "I."

Incidentally, there is another reference in the Washington paper's comment that is worthy of mention, for it emphasizes the fact that for the present, at least, Senator Johnson is immune to White House ambitions, and the senator evidently okes that sentiment, also. Here is the Star's statement of the situation, from its viewpoint:

"The presidential bee may buzz about the head of Senator Hiram Johnson but it can find no joint in the Californian's armor of immunity. Senator Johnson, in accounts not at all disconsolate, declared yesterday that he was not and would not be a candidate for the presidential nomination in 1928. He is through with White House aspirations—for the time being at least."

"Senator Johnson's value to the country as a senator will not diminish because of his relinquishment of presidential aspirations. What has caused the California senator to abandon presidential aspirations at this time? Perhaps he is convinced that the era of conservatism which set in during the war, has not yet run its course, and that the present is no time for a progressive to dash into the fray. Perhaps he sees the Coolidge shadow completely covering the Republican nomination for President in 1928.

"Senator Johnson won fame first as a crusading Progressive in California where he was elected governor. He teamed with Col. Roosevelt in the latter's drive to establish the progressive party in 1912. He came to the senate not long afterward, full of fire and vim. He was one of the leading contenders for the Republican nomination for president in 1920, when he and Gen. Leonard Wood and former Governor Frank Lowden kept the convention deadlocked for many ballots. In 1924, the presidential virus was still in the senator's veins. He campaigned for a number of states where presidential preference primaries are held, but without much success, and finally withdrew, leaving the field to Mr. Coolidge.

"The California senator is a good fighter, a hard fighter. He has not abandoned his love for Progressive principles, but he is, for the present at least, determined to make his fight in the senate rather than in the larger field. He comes up for re-election to the senate next year. He will develop, for they take their politics seriously in California. But Senator Johnson has still a great hold upon the voters of his state, and it would be little short of a miracle if he were denied renomination and re-election."

The announcement attracted national attention. But the really important development is to be found in the editorial from the Washington Star, with its reference to next year's campaign in California. For that to be sent out from the senator's San Francisco office amounts to an announcement of his candidacy.

Calls Newspaper Merger

Forward Step for Pomona

Pasadena Star-News

Pomona's two daily newspapers—the Progress and the Bulletin—have effected a consolidation. The Bulletin, a morning paper, is merged with the Progress, under the name the Progress-Bulletin, and the merged paper will be published in the afternoon. The consolidated paper will have a handsome circulation and will be able to make better terms with competition and division of patronage rendered impossible.

This merger is typical of the trend of the times in newspaper production. To quote a few excerpts from the announcement of the merger, contained in the Progress-Bulletin:

"The consolidation is in harmony with the present day demands for greater economy in publishing costs and in keeping with the policy of the owners of publishing a newspaper of the highest possible standards. For a long time it has been recognized that advertising costs made higher and unnecessary publishing expense incurred by maintaining two papers in a community of that size. In a survey of the situation conducted by the publishers it was found that by combining forces a greater paper could be published and the interests of advertiser and reader served with a far greater degree of satisfaction and benefit to all concerned.

"The importance of such a move will be appreciated by the merchants of Pomona who will be saved large sums of money in advertising costs. By this step a greater newspaper is possible. Community builders the country over have been laying great stress on the important part a newspaper plays in advertising its community. The greater the newspaper the greater the advertisement for the community."

An important truth very well expressed. The tendency is stronger and stronger toward merging newspapers which create a competition that is not needed and is not economically healthy, imposing a burden on advertisers and subscribers and an unnecessary duplicating of effort. Pomona's one newspaper will be far stronger than either of its two papers could be, dividing the field with unnecessary and illogical competition. The flourishing valley city is to be congratulated upon this sensible journalistic move and upon the prospect that it has of a greater newspaper in the merged publication, more completely and more creditably reflecting that community's spirit and enterprise.

Firemen's Habits

By SHIRLEY RODMAN WILLIAMS

It doesn't take any longer to do things a right way and a neat way than to disregard laws of system and order. Habits of orderliness should be instilled into the child from mere babyhood. Said a mother to me, "Oh, but really it's so much easier to pick up after Billy than to make him do it each time!" Well, perhaps it may be so for the time being, but what about Billy's future and all the years that mother or someone else will have to go "picking up" after him. It really is surprising how soon a habit is formed so why not a right one rather than a wrong one?

WHEN the firemen go to bed

In the fire-house overhead
Where the engines stand,
All their clothes are hung just so,
And their shoes placed in a row,
Handy near at hand,
Then if they should have to hurry
To a fire; never worry,
They'd be ready in a wink,
Cause not one would have to think,
"Wonder where I left my clothes?
I can't find 'em, goodness knows!"

Spousing they just dropped their clothes

'Stead of putting them in rows
Neatly on each hook,
'Spouse they dropped 'em on floor,
In a corner, by the door,
Mercy, how 'twould look,
Everything all huddle-puddle,
Shoes and clothes all in a muddle!
Mother said, " 'Twould look to me
Like your bedroom used to be
'Till you put things straight in rows
Like the Firemen place their clothes."
